'Mock Trials' Used On Nazis Officer Admits

Denies Brutality Used To Make SS Troops Confess

By ROGER D. GREENE

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—An American Army Officer acknowledged today that weird "mock trials" were staged but denied that brutality was used to wring confessions from German storm troops in the Malmedy massacre case of World War II.

Lt. Col. Burton F. Ellis, the chief prosecutor, told the Senate Armed Services Committee that the procedure was "proper" under the Army's rules of evidence.

Outside the hearing room, Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) told newsmen the Senate group appeared more concerned with a "whitewash" of the Army than with getting the facts about the trials.

The committee also received an accusation, by letter, from James J. Bailey, Pittsburgh, Pa., who said he was a member of the U. S. Army's confession-gathering team for 10 weeks but quit because he "could stomach it no longer."

Cites Incidents

Bailey, a 53-year-old World War I veteran, identified himself as an official court reporter for 28 years. He said he witnessed some of the mock trials and declared that evidence was gained by "starvation, bodily harm and even death threats."

Such methods, he said, "make a mockery of American justice."

But Col. Ellis told the Senators that Nazis convicted of the infamous crimes exaggerated the alleged mistreatment. He said the purpose of their accusations against U. S. Army prosecutors was to "wiggle out" of death sentences imposed on them by an American military court.

The Senate group, headed by Senator Baldwin (R-Conn), is investigating protests that American officers, in their zeal to get confessions, were themselves guilty of improper conduct in the prosecution of 74 German S. S. troops brought to trial in the case.

The story of the massacre goes back to Christmas time, 1944, when the Battle of the Bulge swirled through the Ardennes Forest around the little Belgian town of Malmedy.

A contingent of American troops, surrounded and hopelessly outnumbered, surrendered to the onrushing Germans who were seeking to break through and split the American and British armies. Instead of sending the captured men to prisoner-of-war camps in the rear, the Nazi Elite troops marched the Americans into a snow-covered field and cut them down with machinegun bullets.

Eighty American soldiers were slain there. Another 80, perhaps more, were shot down after surrendering elsewhere in the battle sector.

"Kicked In Rear"

Ellis told the committee today he knew of only two cases of mild mistreatment of the accused Germans. He said two prisoners named Dietrich and Peiper complained of being "kicked in the rear."

Altogether, 43 Germans were sentenced to death for complicity in the Malmedy atrocities. The Army later cut the number to 12. Then Gen. Lucius Clay, American military governor in Germany, commuted six of the death sentences to life imprisonment.

Sister Kenny To End Polio Work

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 20 (INS) — Sister Elizabeth Kenny, famed Australian infantile paralysis specialist, announced her retirement today as head of the Kenny foundation in Minneapolis.

Foundation officials said that all medical aspects and polio treatments developed by Sister Kenny will be turned over to physicians headed by Dr. E. J. Huenekens, medical director of the foundation and clinical professor of pediatrics at the University of Minnesota.

Sister Kenny told International News Service she was withdrawing from the foundation because "I feel that my first mission in America—the scientific research concerning the new concept of infantile paralysis and its treatment—now has been established."

The internationally prominent nurse disclosed at the same time that she has "much further knowledge which could be of benefit to the health and well-being of the people of the United States."

She added that giving this knowledge to health authorities will be "my second mission."

Sister Kenny said she had no plans for the future "other than helping wherever I am needed."

Rita Hayworth's Wedding Delayed By Aly's Injury

CANNES, France, April 20 (INS)—Aly Khan sprained his ankle today and the Prince's secretary said his marriage to Screen Actress Rita Hayworth probably will be postponed.

The wedding had been scheduled for May 7, but now may go over until June.

Aly's secretary said he received the injury "while doing physical exercises."

The Paris newspaper France Soir said the East Indian Prince was injured while playing with his two sons and Miss Hayworth's daughter Rebecca. France Soir said the injured foot had been placed in a cast.

British Blast Red Trial Of Churchmen

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

LAKE SUCCESS, April 20 (AP)—Britain attacked the iron curtain trials of churchmen today as a fresh phase of Communist opposition to religion and free thought.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, told the Special Political Committee of the U. N. Assembly that Britain joins the United States in supporting a Bolivian move to keep the cases before the U. N. until the September assembly.

This would permit the U. N. to act if nothing comes of proposals to settle the disputes over the religious trials through the peace treaties with Bulgaria and Hungary.

The committee is debating what to do about the trials of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary and of 15 protestant clergymen in Bulgaria.

Australia demanded the U. N. set up a special investigating committee to be sent to Europe and inquire into the situation.

This is similar to a proposal by Cuba. The United States turned down the Cuban proposal and gave its support to the Bolivian resolution.

Cadogan reviewed the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty and said the Hungarian government's yellow book on the case issued last January 19 showed the "Hungarian government had pre-judged the result of the trial and would have considered it a disaster if the trial had resulted in an acquittal."

Mindszenty was sentenced in February to life imprisonment for crimes against the state.

Court Upholds Clergy Ouster

NE WYORK, April 20. (AP)—A State Supreme Court judge today upheld an Episcopal Bishop's right to remove a clergyman from his pulpit.

Before a hushed, crowded courtroom, Justice Meier Steinbrink told his old friend, the Rev. Dr. John Howard Melish, pastor of Brooklyn's Holy Trinity Episcopal church for 45 years:

"There must be a decision here which will confirm the judgment and decree of the bishop."

The 74-year-old clergyman who fought his Bishop into court in order to stand by his son and assistant rector, Rev. William Howard Melish, took the verdict calmly.

There were indications, though no formal announcement, of an appeal.

The court victory was won by the Rt. Rev. James P. De Wolfe, bishop of the Diocese of Long Island. He ordered the aged cleric removed at the request of the church vestry. The case went to court after Melish refused to obey.

Russian Bid To End Cold War Expected

German Official Declares Soviets Seek Settlement

By THOMAS A. REEDY

BERLIN, April 20. (AP)—A high German official declared today Soviet Russia is ready to propose a German settlement, including lifting of the Berlin blockade, if the west will bar Germany from the North Atlantic Alliance.

Confirmation was lacking from allied authorities. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, said he knew of no new Russian overtures. The Russians kept a tight silence. A small power consular official, however, said he had heard the report and believed it.

The German source, who may not be identified by name, is about as well informed as any German in this divided city, which is seething with rumors of an impending break in the situation.

He said the Russian plan would provide for lifting the Soviet blockade of Western Berlin, withdrawal of both Russian and Western Allied Armies from Germany and formation of a central German government at a parley of the United States, British, French and Russian Foreign Ministers. He said the plan would be advanced by Russia herself, and not through a satellite.

The Russian aim, according to this source, is twofold:

1—To establish a "vacuum" Germany between the Rhine and Oder Rivers, unlikely to represent a threat to the Soviet Union.

2—To retire from an untenable position and yet save face.

How such a proposal would be received by the west is conjectural.

The United States, Britain and France are agreed there will be no further four-power parleys on Germany until the Berlin Blockade is lifted. They are committed also to a long occupation of Germany, while Russia has sought before to get all troops out soon.

The Russians have built up a Communist police force in Eastern Germany which many western officials say is intended for just such a situation—to continue the Communist rule begun with the protection of Soviet bayonets.

Third Son Held In Del. 'Heart' Slayings Case

DOVER, Del., April 20 (AP) — The third son of Mrs. Inez Brennan was arrested today in connection with Delaware's "lonely hearts" slayings as workmen began digging up parts of her 30-acre farm where state police say she has admitted burying two victims.

George Brennan, 19, was arrested at Lackland, (Tex.) Air Force Base at the request of Homer Garrison, chief of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Col. Herbert Barnes, Delaware State Police head, said George has been charged with being an accessory to murder.

Mrs. Brennan and another son, 15-year-old Robert, have been in the shotgun killing of Wade N. Woolridge, 70, Bedford, Va. Another son of the woman, Raymond, 23, has been charged with being an accessory. Barnes said New Hampshire police would file charges in the death of Hugo Schultz, 66, charged with first degree murder Epson, N. H.

Memory Of Kathy Fiscus Still Brings Aid For Brave Rescuers

SAN MARINO, Calif., April 20 (AP)—Kathy Fiscus is only a tragic memory but America's generous heart still quickens to the thought of the brave men who tried to rescue her.

From all sections of the United States money is still pouring in to the rescue fund for the volunteers who dug frantically for two days and nights only to find the three-year-old tot dead 100 feet down in the abandoned well into which she fell while playing, April 8.

More than 4,400 letters have come to the San Marino post office with words of praise and contributions for the sandhogs and hard rock miners and crane operators and construction engineers who went without sleep and worked for 72 hours until sheer exhaustion overcame them.

The contributions range from dimes from children to one check for $500. There are still 2,800 letters unopened and hundreds more were received today. A total of $23,137 has been counted.

And in Huntington Memorial Hospital in Pasadena, one of the rescue heroes, Homer (Whitey) Blickensderfer, was recovering from a hernia operation performed without cost by a surgeon who volunteered his service. The hospital donated a room and facilities. Whitey, a hard-rock miner, is unemployed.

A donor of Binghampton, N. Y., said her money was "in appreciation of the genuine demonstration of brotherly love which the world so sorely needs." A movie theatre turned over its Saturday night jackpot which the manager said the patrons forfeited gladly to the cause.

An Oakland man wrote: "This is small pay for these men who upheld the tradition of the american working man in a time of need."

Baby Found In Woods Rests In Bed

Jacqueline Simons, 3, recovers in Big Rapids, Mich, Comunity Hospital bed after being found by searchers who combed wooded areas in the district for 16 hours. She was found in a swampy, brushwood area near her home. Nurse Ruth Classon Harvey, hospital superintendent, is attending the child who attaches said suffered frost bite.

Housing Bill Hits Snag On Civil Rights

Segregation Is Issue In Senate

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—The Civil Rights issue exploded with a bang in the Senate today over an effort to write an anti-segregation amendment into the long-range Housing Bill.

Backers of public housing, many of whom also support Civil Rights legislation, promptly warned that injection of the issue could kill the housing legislation.

The outbreak slowed progress on the bill and there was no indication when a final vote might come.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) touched off the crackling debate when he urged the Senate to approve the anti-segration amendment offered by Republican Senators Bricker (Ohio) and Cain (Wash.).

This quickly pointed up the deep split within the Republican ranks over social legislation such as housing. Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Thye (R-Minn.) jumped to their feet to oppose the amendment while defending the housing measure.

"The question in my mind," Thye told Capehart, "is whether we should support the amendment and lose the Housing Bill."

The bill before the Senate calls for the construction of 810,000 public housing units during the next six years. The Cain-Bricker proposal would prohibit any discrimination on the basis of race, creed or color in the renting of public housing.

Toft said there was no justification for the amendment. He said there "has been no discrimination" in his state of Ohio in the matter of public housing.

But Ohio's other Senator, Bricker, shouted that if the anti-segregation amendment was beaten "then there is something wrong with the (Housing) bill, or with the constitution, or there is something wrong with the Democratic and Republican platforms."

Flyers Who Set Endurance Mark Near 870 Hours

FULLERTON, Cal., April 20 (INS) — Endurance Fliers Bill Barris and Dick Riedel approached their 870th hour aloft today.

Their goal is six straight weeks in the air.

Next Tuesday at exactly 11:44 a. m. (PST) they plan to land their light plane Sunkist Lady at Fullerton Airport.

They cracked the world's record of 726 hours last Thursday. They wanted to remain aloft six weeks "just to give other pilots a mark to shoot at."

Rep. Coffey Is Killed In Jet Plane Crash

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 20 (AP) — Rep. Robert Lewis Coffey, Jr., of Pennsylvania, decorated wartime fighter pilot, was killed instantly at 4:40 p. m. today when his jet fighter crashed here.

His P-80 Shooting Star crashed on the takeoff after a refueling stop at Kirtland Air Force Base.

Crash crews worked more than 30 minutes pulling the body of the 30-year-old first term Congressman from Johnstown, Pa., from the twisted wreckage. Coffey was on a cross country proficiency flight.

Coffey, former air force colonel, had taken off from Andrews Field, Md., at 9 a. m. (EST) today. He refueled once at Detroit before landing here. He was en-route to the Riverside, Calif.

Air Force officials quoted witnesses as saying the jet engine appeared to have faltered shortly after the craft become airborne.

Two puffs of whitish smoke belched from the jet tail pipe. The plane slid off slightly to one wing and crashed into the south end of the runway.

Naval Officer Named Envoy To Moscow By U. S.

Door Held Open For Peace Move

By FRANCIS J. KELLY

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—Vice Admiral Alan G. Kirk, poker-faced sailor-diplomat, was named ambassador to Russia today as the United States held the door open for any real peace move by Moscow.

The assignment came in the midst of unconfirmed reports that the Russians are considering a deal which might lift the Berlin blockade.

Secretary Acheson declined to comment at his news conference today on the rumors of such Russian feelers. He called attention, however, to his comment of a week ago that all official avenues of communication are open to Russia for any appropriate discussions.

Kirk, 60-year-old retired Naval officer, has been serving as ambassador to Belgium and minister to Luxembourg. He succeeds Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, who asked to be relieved from the Moscow post and who now commands the First Army in New York.

In sending Kirk's nomination to the Senate, President Truman confirmed predictions, current for two weeks or more, that the ticklish job of maintaining contact with the soviets would go to the man who commanded Naval units in the invasion of Sicily and who helped map out the cross-channel invasion of Normandy.

Kirk's associates consider him a "natural" for the task. Capable of quick decisions and actions, he also is able to wait out tedious developments with an impassive countenance, pacing his energy to the work at hand.

26 Reported Killed In Two Earlier China Red Attacks

Communist Troops Renew Civil War On National Army

NANKING, Thursday, April 21 (AP)—The Communists crossed the Yangtze today.

A spokesman for the Nationalist Government's Defense Ministry said the Reds surged across the great river at Tikang about 80 miles southwest of Nanking, the capital.

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

NANKING, April 20 (AP) — China's dormant civil war erupted today with a furious Communist offensive along more than 400 miles of the vital Yangtze Valley.

The bubble of peace, afloat for three months, had burst. The Reds struck after the government rejected their latest peace offer. This "peace offer" amounted to total surrender.

Nanking, the capital, and Hankow, major supporting base 375 miles to the southwest, seemed the first objective of Red armies 1,000,000 strong. To meet this shock the nationalists had possibly 500,000 men.

Nanking shook to artillery attacks from three poinst across the river. Communist veterans from the conquest of Manchuria were attacking on the plains before Hankow.

The first onset is designed to wipe out nationalist bridgeheads on the north bank of the Yangtze. This great river divides the communist north from the nationalist south.

Nowhere, in the flood of battle reports, was there mention of a crossing attempt. Government gunboats duelled with Red shore artillery both above and below Nanking.

The nationalist air force, which had helped before, was far away in the island of Formosa, a last-ditch government redoubt. There was no hint it would be thrown into the battle of the Yangtze.

It apparently was in one of these duels that the British Sloop Amethyst was hit by Red shells 60 miles down river from Nanking and went aground with a number of casualties. The British Destroyer Consort also was hit trying to go to the sloop's aid. Both warships may have been mistaken by Red gunners for Chinese gunboats.

Naval Sources Say Black Swan Has 15 Injured

By FRED HAMPSON

SHANGHAI, Thursday, April 21 (AP)—Communist artillery shelled a third British warship in the Yangtze today. The British cruiser London was reported steaming toward the river area between Nanking and Shanghai where two sloops and a destroyer were bombarded. There was a possibility she might bring her guns into action in her rescue attempt.

British naval sources said all three shellings definitely came from the Communist side of the great river. The Reds are known to have heavy concentrations of artillery in position to support a crossing of the Yangtze.

British Naval sources said first reports indicated the Black Swan had suffered 15 or more casualties. The previous attacks totaled 26 known dead and 23 wounded.

The Black Swan was shelled, Naval sources said, while trying to aid the stricken Amethyst, the first British ship caught as China's civil war broke out in full fury again along the great river.

The Black Swan was shelled between Nanking and Shanghai in the same area where communist shore guns on the river's north bank pounded the Consort and the Amethyst.

Naval sources said they did not know whether any of the Black Swan's crew had been killed in the attack.

A spokesman for the British Naval attache's office here said 17 men were known dead in the shelling of the Amethyst and 20 wounded.

Nine crewmen of the British Destroyer Consort were killed as the ship went to aid the Amethyst, aground on Rose Island, 60 miles downstream from Nanking. Three aboard the Consort were wounded seriously, the spokesman said.

The destroyer carried on a running duel with the shore-based guns along a 50-mile stretch of the river. It is possible the red runners may have mistaken the British warships for Chinese nationalist gunboats.

Amethyst Refloated

A report received from the Amethyst early this morning said she was refloated last night by her own efforts.

The British issued a press statement giving this official version of the international incident:

The Consort was dispatched at full speed from Nanking at 11 a. m., local time, yesterday, to aid the stricken, 1,375-ton Amethyst.

The Consort encountered "serious resistance" when she came in sight of the sloop. The Amethyst signalled the Consort to turn back up-river because of the heavy fire from shore.

The Consort, however, continued. When the firing died down, she turned back from a position two miles below the Amethyse and closed to take the sloop in tow.

"On approaching the Amethyst the second time," the statement said, "she again came under heavy fire and was forced to withdraw.

"Steaming downriver, she encountered brisk fire as the result of which she sustained the majority of her casualties. Her coxswain was killed and the stearing gear temporarily disabled.

Three Are Wounded

"Her total casualties include nine dead and three seriously wounded."

The Consort returned the red fire "with her entire armament."

The communists shelled the Amethyst with medium artillery from 9:30 a. m., until noon yesterday, the British statement said. and "sniping continued during the afternoon."

Churches Begin Huge Campaign

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP) — The biggest Evangelistic campaign ever undertaken by the Protestant Churches of America will begin next October.

Plans for the campaign, to be known as the Nationwide Christian Crusade, were announced today. Sponsors are the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America and 15-non-member denominations with a total of 35,000,000 members.

The plan two years in the making, envisage participation of more than 150,000 local churches and more than 50 colleges. The crusade will continue for 15 months through 1950.

A federal council spokesman, Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Syracuse, N. Y., said this is one of the basic ideas behind the campaign:

"We will not have a better America until we have better Americans."

Dahlberg, a former president of the Northern Baptist Convention, declared:

"Only a world movement towards Christ can offer any lasting hope for mankind, individually and sicially.

"Our own country, thrust into a position of world leadership, must experience a new sense of justice and righteousness within our own borders lest she fail to provide the world with moral and spiritual leadership."

Transport Crewman Checks Draft, Is Sucked Through Plane's Door

SEATTLE, April 20 (AP) — An air-transport crewman who went to check on a draft around the plane's door was sucked out to an almost certain death over Alaska waters tonight.

Th victim was Dave Huycke of Los Angeles. third pilot aboard a Sourdough Air Transport Company C-47.

Fred Whitmire, the firm's Seattle manager, said he was advised by the pilot that the accident occurred four minutes after the takeoff from Annette Island, near Ketchikan with 10 passengers. The flight had originated in Seattle. Anchorage was its destination. Whitmire said the plane's altitude probably was around 3,500 feet.

"There seemed to be a draft around one of the doors," Whitmire said he was informed by Pilot Ed Brenner, "and Huycke went back to see what caused it.

"No one knows just what happened, but in some way he got the door open and the wind sucked him out of the plane."

Whitmire said co-pilot Rudy Billberg apparently was in the rear of the plane and witnessed the accident.

"He hollered at Dave," said Whitmire, "but it all happened in just a split second and he was helpless to do anything. Apparently there was no outcry from Dave before he went."

The area is dotted with islands, but Whitmire said there is more water than land at four minutes flying distance. He said he had not been able to get a telephone connection to Annette today to learn what kind of an air search was being made.

Singer Promises Russia Negro Aid

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS, April 20 (AP)—Paul Robeson, negro singer, told the Communist-inspired World Peace Congress today that American negroes would never fight the Soviet Union.

His resonant voice injected the first fire into an otherwise monoonous opening sesion that heard repeated attacks on the Atlantic Pact, the U. S. atomic policy, the Marshall Plan and "Anglo-American capitalist imperialism" from a series of speakers.

Robeson brought the 2,000 delegates from 52 or more countries to their feet in cheering applause with his call for a "fight for friendship" with Russia, the "eastern Democracies and a free China."

He ended his appearance by singing a re-write of "ole man river" which subsituted the words "show a little grit" for "git a little drunk."

"I bring you a message from the negro people of America that they do not want a war which would send them back into a new kind of slavery," Robeson told the Congress.

U. S. Army Prepares For Trouble In Osaka, "Pittsburgh Of Japan"

By FRANK L. WHITE

OSAKA, Japan, April 20—(AP)—United States Army authorities are preparing for trouble in this "Pittsburgh of Japan." It could be three-way trouble.

Labor has been restless in this industrial city of 3,000,000 persons. Workers don't like the policies of Japan's conservative premier, Shigeru Yoshida.

April 25 will be the first anniversary of the Korean riots in Osaka and nearby Kobe, a city of more than 1,000,000 population. The big Korean minority is being stirred up. The goal is a demonstration for six Korean and one Japanese "martyrs" who got prison terms for last year's disorders.

May Day is coming up — and Osaka is a hotbed of Communism.

Behind the already serious labor unrest lurks the possibility of an industrial crisis. Should this come, workers might flare up in large-scale disturbances.

This is the uneasy situation.

Many Osaka factories producing for government contracts and export trade face the prospect of slowing or shutting down unless the Japanese government pays its bills promptly and private credit is loosened.

Unemployment would have a tendency to throw the city's predominantly conservative labor unions into joint action with leftist-led minority labor groups. This is admitted freely by conservative labor leaders.

Even now, Osaka labor is not in a pleasant mood. In the past two weeks Japanese police have clashed twice with labor demonstrators. There is widespread demand for dismissal of Police Chief Eiji Susuki. His men are accused by leftists and conservatives alike of being too free with their clubs. The chief has refused a municipal assembly request that he resign.

United States Army authorities are getting ready for any eventuality. They refuse to discuss their plans, but it is known they are determined to be ready to back up Japanese police in preserving order.

George Jean Nathan is the source of the story of a two-hundred-and-eighty-pound linesman on the University of Pennsylvania football squad, who was named All-American three years running, but never spoke a single word to other members of his team. Finally the coach begged, "Won't you break down and say just a few words to us before you hang up your togs for the last time?"

"Uh, uh," replied the linesman with a frown. "Me no spika da English."

The city council of a ritzy California subdivision tried to make a citizen abandon a pig-raising program upon which he had embarked. The citizen, quoting the Four Freedoms, demanded a referendum—and won, 82 to 4. The four "nays" were the city council. One voter printed on his ballot, "I like pigs a lot better than the city council." Another recalled, "It was pigs that helped build California."

Lids Cause Argument

BERLIN (AP)—There's a new argument in controversial Berlin . . . does one tip his baskermuetze to a spaziergaengerin on the Kurfurstendamm?

Ernst Reuter, the mayor, unwittingly started the argument. He came back to Germany after exile during the Nazi regime. Among the things he brought back with him from Turkey was a penchant for wearing a baskermuetze. A baskermuetze is a beret. It became more or less his trademark. It developed its following. Young men who promenade the Kurfurstendamm broke out in baskermuetzen.

Immediately an old Berlin custom developed a quirk. That was the custom of doffing one's hat to one's friends, or even to a lady who might become a friend, on the Kurfurstendamm. How does one doff a baskermuetzen?

In a letter to a Berlin newspaper, a subscriber said the old German courtesy of lifting one's headgear should prevail regardless of the difficulties. But dyed-in-the-pure-wool baskermuetzen wearers say lifting that kind of lid is liked digging in your pockets with mittens on. Nothing happens.

Another letter suggested the strollers bow to their acquaintances.

Device Detects Grain In Steel For Best Uses

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—A lesson from trees that is useful for steel was announced today by the United States Steel Corporation.

This is a new device that measures the grain in finished steel. Metallic grain is like the grain, or fiber direction, in wood, used for strength, polish and other qualities in finished wood products.

In steel, the fibers are imitated by molecules that line up with heads pointing in the same direction. When steel is rolled, distinct directional grain is sometimes formed. At other times there is almost no grain, because the molecules point helter skelter.

Both effects are useful for better steel products. But neither microscopes nor x-rays can see the metallic graining.

Only magnetism detects the fibers, and the new device is a small magnet that does the job in six minutes. This magnet needs a sample only the size and shape of a silver quarter. If the steel has grain in any direction, the quarter-size sample resists turning in the magnetic field at certain points corresponding to the invisible grain.

One large use is in the steel plates in the cores of electrical transformers. Plenty of grain in such plates makes transformers both smaller and lighter in weight.

For motors and generators, the best results come from steel that has the least possible graining. This same lack of directional grain gives steel better properties for bottle tops, automobile bodies, cooking pots, tubs and many other household utensils.

The new tester was developed by Dr. Donald S. Miller in the Kearny, N. J., research laboratories. It replaces testing methods which required many hours.

Veteran Held In Cafe Entry

A 19-year-old local Army veteran faces a preliminary hearing today in Trial Magistrates Court in connection with a breaking and entering at Carl Keller's Cafe, 510 Park Street, early yesterday morning.

City Police identified the veteran as John William Dorsey, 232 Williams Street, student at a local radio school.

Authorities said Dorsey was questioned in the State's Attorney's office and admitted entering the place and taking a quantity of merchandise and currency valued at a total of about $200.

Lt. James E. Van said Officer Robert Hammamm discovered the robbery about 2 a. m. when he found the front door unlocked while checking his beat. Officer Harold Crawford and Lt. Van was called to the scene.

Police later arrested Dorsey at his home, a box of candy and a carton of cigarets were removed from the home, while the remainder of the merchandise and curency amounting to $22.06 were found in a car parked on Hill Top Drive, authorities said.

Police said a small hole was broken in in a window glass on the Williams Street side of the cafe and fuse plugs were pulled from a switch box to darken the place.

Authorities said Dorsey packed merchandise into two boxes and tossed them out of a window, loading them into a car parked in a rear alley. Dorsey then drove to Louisiana Avenue and Hill Top Drive where he parked the vehicle and went home to bed, police said.

MOSCOW—(AP)—The well known ballet master, Igor Moeseev, has produced a football dance, which is described as a sensation.

There are goals at both ends of the stage and the dancers are the players. Although they play with no ball the soccer is described as "exciting."

The dancers are dressed in soccer uniforms.

Medical Profession Smeared and Defamed

Under the present interpretation applied by the Administration, anyone who disagrees with it is a menace, a fraud, dishonest, and engaged in a deliberate effort to sabotage the public welfare. Thus the medical profession is being smeared and defamed because it happens, for excellent reasons, to oppose the Truman health program.

Typical of this is the report submitted to the White House by Dr. Channing Frothingham, heading a committee on the nation's health. It accuses the American Medical Association of "depriving American families of better and more comprehensive medical insurance plans at reasonable cost" and of "choking the development of medical insurance." AFL President William Green called the AMA "the villain," and said that President Truman might take to the radio in supporting his compulsory health insurance.

Thus the drums are being beaten for socialized medicine. That is exactly what the Truman health program would be, with its payroll taxes, its Federal control over hospitals and physicians, and its inevitable towering bureaucracy.

On the other side is the voluntary health insurance program which American citizens have embraced by the millions and which would be still further extended by bills providing Federal aid, as submitted by Senator Taft and by Senator Hill. Nearly a third of the nation now buys health insurance through such agencies as the Blue Cross and Blue Shield and commercial insurance companies.

By extending similar protection through Federal and state aid, under local control, to persons unable to afford voluntary payments, and by helping increase the number of doctors, nurses and hospital facilities, an adequate program of medical care can be provided. It would not socialize medicine, it would not destroy the system that has been responsible for this nation's great medical's progress and it would preserve the American principles of freedom, initiative and personal individual relationship between patient and physician.

Far from being the villian of the piece, the American physician, individually and as the member of a group, has been warmly supporting these voluntary health insurance programs.

A paragrapher laments the fact that the good five-cent cigar has not made its reappearance. It is obvious that he doesn't smoke cigars, or he would know there never was a good five-center.

British Socialism And The American Taxpayer

Looking forward to next year's election, the executive committee of Britain's Labor Party has just released a statement of policy proposing another five-year plan to carry the country further along the road toward socialism. This program is to be presented to the party conference to be held in June. It has been made public now so that it can be discussed in advance of that meeting.

That is the explanation for what looks like a bad mistake in timing. For this statement appears while the British people are still reeling from the shock of the budget Sir Stafford Cripps placed before the Commons. Besides, the European Recovery program is now being debated in Washington, where there is a strong disposition to ask whether the American people should help finance Britain's socialistic government.

The new plan takes the position that more "social services" can be provided only if production is increased. But it certainly does not counsel a change in direction, and the program it suggests would result in more socialism.

So Americans must ask themselves once more if they want to aid a Britain apparently headed that way. Up to now the answer has been that Britain's war-shattered economy can be rebuilt only with the help of American taxpayers and that this must be done in the interest of this country, whether or not Britons want a socialistic system.

It might be added—although this may be wishful thinking—that American aid to Britain does not seem to be helping its socialistic government a great deal. Sentiment for a change seems to be in the air. Possibly American help has helped to produce that sentiment. That could be.

The nation's wheat crop has already reached the stage where availability of box cars to move it to market is causing concern.

Free Information Plan Before UN General Assembly

Proposed convention on freedom of information, now before the UN General Assembly, is a dubious document as it stands. And there is danger that it will be made worse than meaningless. If that should happen the United States should certainly refuse to sign it—as Edwin D. Canham, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and a member of the American delegation, believes it will do.

As adopted by the UN's Subcommittee of Freedom of Information and the Press, the convention was an acceptable document. But a provision allowing a government to impose censorship on news involving "national military security" has been altered by the Economic and Social Council. The change consists merely of dropping the word "military." But the effect would be to give a government wide latitude in dealing with outgoing dispatches.

Proposed amendments, offered by Mexico and Poland, would open the door to censorship even wider. One Mexican amendment would authorize censorship on the basis of "national prestige" and "national dignity." Another would require any news organ printing a dispatch to publish a "correction" at the request of a foreign government. The Polish amendment would alter the definition of news material not subject to censorship in such a way that almost anything could be suppressed.

Foreign governments can censor to their heart's content in the absence of any convention on freedom of information. But one that would not change the situation would be valueless. If such an agreement should get UN approval, the prestige of the world organization would be placed behind a sham. The United States ought not to be a party to it.

The Eighty-first Congress is said to be running behind schedule. But not in doling out taxpayers' money.

Safer Cars and Driving

EVERY 15 minutes some one in the United States is killed in an auto accident. Moreover, an injury occurs every 26 seconds. No wonder physicians and hospitals are kept busy at all hours of the day and night.

Who is responsible for this slaughter? The driver, his car, the pedestrian, the road builder, local government authorities, and automobile manufacturers share in the blame. The finger can be pointed at all of us and all of us will have to work together to control this butchery. Considering the marked increase in traffic, some progress has been made through the efforts of various safety councils and similar organizations but only the surface has been scratched.

The individual at the wheel invites danger when he drives too fast. Speed is relative, however, and 20 miles per hour may be excessive in congested areas or when the road is slippery and visibility poor. The drunken driver is a menace as well as the man or woman with poor vision including night blindness and inadequate depth perception. This does not apply to defects that are corrected by glasses. The moron, who does not know the meaning of the words CAREFUL, SLOW, STOP, CURVE, etc. should be forbidden by law to handle a car. Young people in the 15-24 age group rank high on the list of offenders and the country might profit by giving them lessons in driving and consideration for others along with their history and geometry.

The pedestrian must make some effort to save his hide. Moving vehicles cannot stop on a dime, especially when the lights are green. When a person is in a hurry, it is human nature to take a chance whether he is at the wheel or on foot but the driver is not a mind-reader or a magician.

The government enters the picture when it does not enforce the law and neglects to remove the hundreds of road hazards that invite accidents or when it fails to put up signs for both motorists and pedestrians, warning of potential dangers ahead. Periodic inspections of cars for mechanical defects also is essential inasmuch as 15 per cent of our traffic casualties are traceable to this cause.

A concentrated effort by many physicians and safety councils is now being made to encourage automobile manufacturers to incorporate more safety devices. Much of this stems from a scientific analysis of the injuries received by victims of crashes and other catastrophes. The dashboard, for exmaple, could be redesigned to eliminate many of its numerous protruding gadgets or to cover them with a rubber crash pad. The glass windshield is an additional hazard should the body be propelled forward by a sudden stop; by utilizing plastic material in the windows and windshields, the occupants are less likely to be torn to shreds. Bumpers on shock absorbers, safety belts, shorter hoods, and hundreds of other security measures are being studied to give further protection.

SLUDGY BLOOD

O. E. writes: Is there such a thing as blood sludge? My circulation is poor and the doctor told me my blood vessels are partly filled with this material so that it can barely get around in my body.

Reply

Yes. In this phenomenon, the cells congregate like debris in a river as the blood passes through the damaged vessels. The process is thought to be related to clot formation. The usual remedies for poor circulation are suggested.

RELAXATION IS HELPFUL

N. B. writes: Can hypertension be relieved by lots of sleep and rest?

Reply

Yes and more so if accompanied by peace of mind.

BEDSORES

Mrs. K. writes: What is best to use for bedsores? My aged mother is troubled at present.

Reply

Many heal if the invalid is moved on the side from time to time in order to relieve pressure on the back. During this period, the lesions are cleansed carefully with an antiseptic, followed by the application of an ointment containing sulfathiazole or penicillin. Another method is to have the patient lie on a rubber air ring or a doughnut made from cotton.

INFLAMED HEART

W. C. writes: Can myocarditis be cured?

Reply

Yes, if you refer to inflammation of the heart. On the other hand, this disorder often leaves scar tissue in its wake, which may interfere in later years with the working ability of the organ.

RELATED AILMENTS

K. B. writes: My throat seldom becomes sore but I have many attacks of laryngitis. Can you explain this?

Reply

Laryngitis is a close relative of sore throat and the same germs often are responsible for both disorders. Abnormalities of the larynx, such as polyp as well as too much talking, must be considered. Hence, examination is advised.

State Department Tries To Stop French Indo-China Civil War; General Bradley Dodges Pyramid Clubs; Texas Congressman Battles American Legion Lobbyist

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, April 20. — It won't be announced officially, but the State Department has taken a secret and highly significant step to try to stop the three-year-old civil war in French Indo-China.

Indo-China is a long way from the USA, but in these days of global cold war, what happens there can influence the spread of Communism in the Philippines, the Malays and India.

Therefore, Ambassador Caffery, acting on careful instruction from Secretary of State Acheson, has told the French Foreign Office that the United States considers it absolutely necessary to stop this fighting in order to keep it from playing into the hands of the Communists.

Caffery said he was authorized to pledge the full support of the United States to French plans for creating an anti-Communist government in Indo-China headed by Bao Dai, the former emperor. The United States might even be willing to consider economic help to such a government if it kept out all Communists.

Note—Another reason why we are anxious to end this revolution is because we want the French to bring their army back from Indo-China to France to guard against a surprise attack from Russia. The French have between 100,000 and 200,000 troops in Indo-China and have sometimes been suffering 1,000 casualties a week.

No Pyramids For Bradley

Contrary to press reports, General Omar Bradley, Chief of Staff, has never been a member of a pyramid club. And for a very good reason.

"At West Point," says Bradley, "I taught mathematical probabilities. And even if I'd ever been invited to join a pyramid club, I wouldn't have done so, because the chances of a pay-off are too slim."

The Legion's No. 1 Lobbyist

Young Representative Olin Teague of Texas, decorated 11 times for bravery in the last war, took on a fresh battle recently with the No. 1 American Legion lobbyist.

Teague made the Legion's tough and skillful John Thomas Taylor eat his own words during his testimony in favor of the Rankin pension bill.

Taylor based his plea largely on "precedents" for pensions voted by earlier Congresses.

"Just a minute," broke in Teague. "While we're on the subject of precedents, let me read from the witness's testimony on this same question when the House Ways and Means Committee was holding hearings in 1930 on amendments to the veterans' Adjusted Compensation Act of 1924."

Teague proceeded to quote a colloquy between Jack Garner of Texas, later vice president, and Taylor, then as now the Legion's legislative representative. Taylor admitted at that time that the 1924 bonus bill as amended would be a quitclaim against future pensions for World War I vets.

Pinned down by Garner as to whether the legislation would make future pensions unnecessary, Taylor replied, "No question about it."

When Teague finished reading from the record, Legion lobbyist Taylor looked like the Washington Monument had fallen on him.

"I just wanted to get that in the record for the benefit of colleagues who have asked me about it," commented Texas' Teague, "It doesn't mean I'm against caring for war vets who are in need."

Capital News Capsules

To Stop Deflation—A group of Western Senators headed by Jim Murray of Montana are working up a big anti-deflation program, including provisions for a large federal lending drive to get new capital at work on the expansion of industrial capacity . . . . One of the most important points of the new Murray legislation will be authority for industry to write off all big new capital expenditures in five years or less. In other words—accelerated depreciation.

Lobbyist Dinner—The foundry industry threw a party for members of Congress the other night and sent out invitations in the name of Senator Capehart of Indiana, the juke-box king. But, of the many invited, only a handful showed up. . . . A reporter telephoned the private dining room, but was told curtly they didn't want any publicity. He went up to the room anyway and spotted Senator Myers of Pennsylvania, Democrat; Congressman Engel of Michigan, Republican; and Congressman Patterson of Connecticut, Republican. Less than 20 people were in the room, and 15 of these were supposed to be foundry company executives. Later Senator Capehart admitted sending out the invitations—at the request, he said, of Richard Wagner of Indianapolis, president of the Electric Casting Company.

Congress May Growl—Secretary of State Acheson is in for new trouble with Congress, especially with the Appropriations Committees, on the Atlantic Pact. . . . The State Department has decided not to give Congress too much detailed information on Europe's military needs for fear of a leak to the Soviet Union. Despite statements to the contrary, Acheson already has all the military information from European powers, but wants a blank check from Congress — for security reasons.

Exit From Austria—The Western Allies will steal a march on the Russians by proposing the withdrawal of virtually all occupation forces from Austria. British, French and American diplomats in London have agreed to suggest that their troops—and the Russians—be evacuated from Austria except for a token army in Vienna. The plan was decided upon because the Austrian Government convinced the Allies there is no chance of a Communist coup overturning the present pro-Western regime. The plan will be made publicly to the Russians as soon as the present conference on an Austrian treaty ends in failure—as seems certain shortly.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, April 20.—(INS)—The passing show:

The most bewildered workers in the U. S. today must be those now riveting the basement of U. N.'s topless-towers-to-be and those hammering away at the keel of the world's most redundant warship, the U.S.S. United States.

We paid a visit to the U.N. site some time ago and found the men there—mainly diggers—in a state of scrambled bewildement. Most of them seemed certain that what they were working on would never be finished. The rest said t'ell with it, it was steady pay, wasn't it?

Recent events, including the signing of the Atlantic Pact and the demands in Congress for a "Little U.N." composed of pact nations, must now make the confusion at the U.N. site unanimous. There is bound to be similar distress at Newport News, Va., where the 65,000-ton carrier which nobody except the Navy seems to want is in its early embryo state.

The starting of work on the U. S. S.U.S. is a brutal mockery of 1) the legend of unification and 2) the sanctity of the American buck. Navy brass seemed to wish that the thing could start without public notice, and stayey away. The Air Force managed not to bomb the shipyard, but will continue to fight in Congress against what it says is a bold invasion of its sovereignty. The U.S.S.U.S., if finished, will be large enough to launch A-bomb carrying planes. Navy planes.

In the meantime, the people are paying the bills and probably wishing mightily that the boys at home and abroad would get together—if only for the sake of relieving what must be the chaotically twisted minds of the workmen.

Speaking of the A-bomb, Winston Churchill sat himself down to his writing table in 1925, in the course of doing a book called "Thoughts and Reflections," and wrote:

"Might not a bomb no bigger than an orange be found to possess a secret power to destroy a whole block of buildings—nay, to concentrate the force of a thousand tons of cordite and blast a township at a stroke?"

Yea, sir.

Churchill, by the way, takes no open pride in the achievements of the U. S.-British Air Lift into Berlin. He says it's a case of showing Joe Stalin how long we can stand on our heads while he sits in a comfortable rocker.

He believes we made a great mistake at the start of the blockade by not stating, firmly, that Russian surface ships could no longer use the ports of Le Havre, Southampton and New York. When the police states throw out a diplomatic representative of the U. S. or Britain, Churchill states, we should in turn give the tramp's toss to their counterparts. But immediately.

Lot of honors have been dumped on our friend Bob Ripley through the years. But he treasures especially a jingle delivered recently by Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president of Stephens College, Columbia, Mo. It ran:

"In democratic America they say:
Believe it or not!
In Communistic Russia they say:
Believe it or else!"

The Yankee Stadium is becoming a kind of down-state baseball Hall of Fame. The addition of Babe Ruth's plaque to those of Lou Gehrig, Miller Huggins and Jake Ruppert in center field the other day, has turned that area into a shrine that more than a million fans will visit or look upon from afar this season.

Fittingly enough, Tommy Henrich won the opening game at the "house that Ruth built" with a home run into what we used to call Ruthville, the right field stands. Which accounts for the sculpted grin on the big, flat, wonderful kisser of the great man—who is home again, this time for as long as heavy bronze can endure the friction of time and tempest.

Coming Vote On Labor Bill In Congress Appears Close

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 20—Rarely ever in the recent history of Congress has a recess of Congress been as important to legislation as the present "vacation."

Long before the House of Representatives arranged its own recess, members of the labor-union strategy boards planned to carry on a most intensive campaign back home to influence the coming vote on labor-management legislation.

The contest is very close. Secretary of Labor Tobin, who at first predicted that the so-called Administration bill would be adopted by the House, has now given out the figures on which he bases his prediction. It turns out that he concedes there are only 200 sure votes out of 435 for the Administration bill, but he thinks that about 40 are wavering and many of these will swing over to the administration side.

The opposing factions are indeed lined up about as the Secretary of Labor sizes up the situation but there are distinct differences of opinion as to what the other so-called doubtful votes will do.

How Campaign Lines Up

Obviously the drive in the districts back home is centered on the relatively small number of members who are in the doubtful class. All sorts of pressure is being applied. Before the congressmen went away the air was full of rumors about promises of patronage to the wavering ones. Possible federal works projects which haven't been up for years were dusted off and dangled before the members whose votes are needed.

The other side—the Republicans and the Southern Democrats—are standing firmly, with the exception of about 20 Republicans who are believed to be on the fence. Some of these are doubtless being promised AFL or CIO support at the polls in the November 1950 elections. Considerable use is being made of election statistics tending to show how the labor vote helped elect or defeat members of Congress on their record on labor legislation.

When the House members come back the lobbying will continue. President Truman never says a word about lobbying when it is being done by labor unions. He facetiously claims that this is in the people's interest. Somehow or other the philosophy that the end justifies the means when the objective is benevolent has taken hold far more in official Washington in recent years than at any other time in the last half century.

The fact that the federal government can dispense favors through its huge spending program makes the old patronage system when a few U. S. marshals or postmasters were the rewards for "voting right" in Republican days now seem like peanuts.

Chances Are Vote Will Be Close

The chances are the vote will very close and that the parliamentary maneuvers on the wood bill which is being pressed as a substitute for the Administration bill will have much to do with the way the whole thing winds up.

It is eminently proper for members of Congress to hear in their home districts arguments for or against pending legislation. It would be gratifying if the whole matter were merely one of debate on the merits of such legislation. But it does look as if minority groups able to mobilize union members as voters are threatening to inflict punishment at the polls if members of Congress do not obey the dictation of lobbies. It is getting more and more difficult for members to vote their convictions and yet be re-elected. The reason for this is, of course, the indifference of a majority of the voters to what goes on in their districts—and many voters do not know even the names of their representatives in Congress, let alone their attitudes and votes on pending legislation. If the majority is to rule, some better methods of communication between government and the governed will have to be devised and better methods of stimulating the interest of otherwise indifferent voters.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Investigate China Policy

Dean Acheson, secretary of state, in an unecessarily harsh reply to a congressional inquiry, indicated to the Chinese Communists that there is no possibility of the American government aiding those who oppose them. On receipt of this information, the Chinese Communists put the screws on the Nanking regime by giving them a three-day ultimatum.

In this connection, the charges of Senator Styles Bridges and Senator Pat McCarran that Dean Acheson has distorted the figures of American aid to China need investigation. The disparity between what Dean Acheson says this country provided and what the Chinese say they received runs into hundreds of millions of dollars. Someone here or in China is either a liar or a very bad bookkeeper. Someone may also be a thief.

It would be sound for a special congressional committee to make a thorough study of the American China policy, say from 1939 to 1949—a 10-year period. It is during this period that our policy, which has been fixed since the treaty of Whanghea in 1844, was suddenly changed. The John Hay open door policy was dropped. The nine-powers treaty was dropped. The Stimson doctrine was dropped. The trained personnel in the State Department was transferred all over the place and an entirely new group of outsiders and juniors was placed in charge. The three leading figures in the conduct of our China policy were Lauchlin Currie, Owen Lattimore, and John Carter Vincent. A congressional study of the policy and operations of these three experts would be most interesting.

The Chinese Communist Party was organized in 1920 and has taken part in comintern conferences since then. This duly reported in "International Press Correspondence" (Imprecorr), the Third International publication. The names of the current Communist leaders appeared in those reports.

For instance, Li Lih-san, who is now the boss of Manchuria, managed the anti-foreign activities of the Chinese Communists in Shanghai from 1925 to 1927. I watched his activities closely and reported them at the time in the "North China Daily News," "The Japan Advertiser," and in "The China Year Book."

Yet, in recent years, those in control of our State Department insisted that these Communists were not Communists at all; they were agrarians. So when these Communists turned up last autumn as agents of Russian imperialism, carrying out the Soviet post-Yalta policies, our experts switched from agrarianism to Titoism.

What do they mean by that? By declaration, Tito is a Communist. But he takes the position that he can only be an effective Communist if the Russians will give him a better economic break than the Russian colonial scheme permits. Therefore, he is now a Schismatic Communist but not heretical. He belongs to the lodge but is sore at its president.

So when they say that Mao Tze-tung is going to be a Chinese Tito, they mean that he will still belong to the comintern but that he wants to be as important as Stalin in the lodge; otherwise, he will do a little fancy jockeying.

And we are supposed to play in that game. The brilliant minds that operate our State Department would like to get us into a position—or maybe they have done so already—so that Mao Tze-tung can play the United States off against Soviet Russia, not with the object of being our ally but with the object of blackmailing Stalin.

Well, the old boy in the Kremlin discovered that game long ago. So he put Li Lih-san in charge of Manchuria and Li dislikes Mao and always has. If Mao Tze-tung tries to be a Tito, Stalin's boy, Li, will give him, and incidentally us, a swift kick where it is sure to hurt.

This would be a good time for a congressional committee to have a look at this picture. They might also look at the Amerasia case, at the institute of Pacific relations, at the American silver policy which bankrupted China, at the possession of American arms by Asiatic Communists and how they got them, and at the retention in office and promotion of those American officials who pursued a pro-Russian policy in China. A good look ought to be very revealing—and ultimately will save American lives.

Baering Down On The News

The Atlantic Pact bolsters the United Nations which sort of makes it a baby-sitter for its own twin.

In there you also have the Marshall Plan and the European recovery schedule. All those prescriptions written by different doctors will be cashed at Uncle Sam's old reliable drugstore.

Somewhere deeper on the spindle are the fourteen points and the League of Nations. We have been trying for thirty yars to make chaos negotiable.

Meanwhile we are discovering the cold war burns as much fuel as the other kind.

About time Congress stopped fiddling around with war, subsidies, atom bombs and investigated the dollar lamb chop.

A lamb chop is a handle with nothing on it.

If it's a question of the butcher weighing the chop or his thumb we'll take the thumb. There's more to it.

We've asked the butchers the reason for the high cost of nibbling. Their explanations make about as much sense as wearing a straw hat in the ice-box.

State Collects Back Sales Tax

During the last six months, $279,113 in delinquent sales taxes have been collected, according to James J. Lacy, comptroller.

Lacy reminded vendors that they are responsible for all tax they should collect whether they actually collect it or not.

Other persons are avoiding the tax, he said, by improper use of resale certificates and by failing to report directly to the Sales Tax Division property purchased from out of the state on which no tax has been paid to the vendor. The latter class usually purchases in great quantities and assessments sometimes amount to thousands of dollars against the vending company.

Public Library Accepts Gift

Mrs. A. M. Lichtenstein has presented the Cumberland Free Public Library with the latest edition of the United States Pharmacopoeia, as a memorial to her husband, the late A. M. Lichtenstein. Mr. Lichtenstein, a member of one of Cumberland's best known families, was a successful druggist here for many years. The Pharmacopoeia is, therefore, a particularly fitting tribute to his memory, Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, said.

The United States Pharmacopoeia is the standard for description of drugs and preparations used in medicine in the United States. This valuable publication is revised every 10 years, and published by the authority of the United States Pharmacopoeial convention. It is an important addition to the Library's reference collection, the librarian pointed out.

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

In business, the girl who looks the part gets the job! Your clothes must always be right for the time and place, and your grooming perfect!

WHEN you know that your clothes are correct and your grooming is good, automatically you hold your head higher, your posture improves, and you enter a room with poise! Can you think of anyone to whom this is more important than to a girl applying for a position or trying to get ahead in one she holds?

I've been receiving many letters recently from business girls asking me to tell them what I consider the perfect wardrobe for their business hours. As an employer of girls who must look their best at all times, I have a number of thoughts on this important question. I'm not the only employer who has! A recent survey of large companies showed that women employees are rated on their dress and grooming. The girl who looks the part, gets the job. She is dressed in clothes that are suitable for business and is perfectly groomed. And if she wants to hold and progress on the job, there is never a day that she is caught off-guard in either of these two details of her personal appearance.

The "Rule of Four"

This is a good time to remind you that there are four rules to follow in the choice of any clothes. No. 1 its Line: The shoulder to hem line must flatter your figure, never fight it. No. 2, Color: Wear only those colors that complement your hair, skin and eyes. No. 3, Personality: You and your clothes must always have the same personality. No. 4, Suitability: Your clothes must always be right for the hour and place.

Suitability has a special importance for any women in business. Here are the most important basic considerations, compiled from my own ideas and those of some leading personnel directors.

Do

Wear tailored basic clothes.
Wear a brassiers.
Wear a girdle.
Wear stockings.
Wear closed toe and heel pumps.
Wear a "Band Box Look."
Wear a pleasant expression. (It is the best thing you wear!)

Don't

Don't wear fussy clothes.
Don't wear tight sweaters.
Don't wear bobby socks.
Don's wear scuffs.
Don't wear a spot or wrinkle.
Don't wear a grouch.

I'll leave it to you to check yourself! Best wishes for a successful career!

P.S. From J. R. P.

'YOUR PERSONAL COLORSCOPE'—Individual guide to best colors for you, and what colors to avoid. Includes five woolen switches of perfect colors for your color type. Give color of eyes, skin (fair, medium, dark) and hair (original color if gray). Send 10c in coin to cover cost and stamped, self-addressed, business-size return envelope. WAC OCS Deadline Set At May 15

Applications for WAC officer candidate school must be in by May 15, according to M-Sgt. Clarence Biehn, local Army and Air Force recruiter.

M-Sgt. Biehn also announced that two enlistees have been sent to Martinsburg, W. Va., processing center for examinations. They are Richard L. Walters, Frostburg, Regular Army, three years, and Charlotte James, 951 Bedford Street, WAC, three years.

Leftover potatoes are usually eaten with relish if they are sliced, spread with butter or margarine and broiled until lightly browned on both sides. They may be dusted with paprika, if you like, before they are sent to the table.

A Twentieth Century Fund study reports that Americans spent $400 million a year on foreign travel before World War II.

MIRROR of your MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Are children's vocabularies getting larger?

Answer: No, says Dr. Emmett A. Betts, director of the Reading Clinic at Temple University, Philadelphia. Due to the demand for text-books that are easy for children with reading difficulties, "The vocabularies of basal readers for the three primer grades has been reduced during the past ten years from about 1800 words to approximately 1200. This does not prepare the better pupils for the heavy reading burdens that lie ahead." Children with reading problems should have special help until they catch up, not hold back their classmates.

Can anyone be "proved sane"?

Answer: For practical purposes, such proof is unnecessary. Every person has the right to be considered — and consider himself — sane who cannot be proved to be insane. But since, to begin with, there is no complete agreement as to what is "normal," to prove that a certain person is in no respect "abnormal" would obviously be impossible. The one answer to the demand occasionally heard from "cranks" that the psychiatrists should "prove they are not crazy themselves" is that their critics could not prove themselves sane, either.

Does schizophrenia mean "split personality"?

Answer: Not in the sense of having inconsistent moods or character traits — the word for that is "ambivalence," and it is a quality coming from the same Greek root of many otherwise quite normal people. The word "schizophrenia," as "scissors," describes a mind that is "cut off' from the world of reality and lives mainly or entirely in dreams and delusions. While some types of schizophrenics may go into dangerous rages, these spring from the patients memories or fantasies; they have little to do with what's going on around him.

Traveler Has Son But No Razor

CHICAGO — (AP) — Ben Heinemann's wife and four yaer old son came down to the railroad terminal to see him off for Washington. Heinemann suddenly realized he had forgotten his shaving stuff. This plan was drawn quickly: Junior would stay with his dad. His wife would drive to their home, get the shaving kit, and meet the train when it reached the Englewood station. Heinemann would hand down Junior to his wife and she would hand up the kit to him. But the train by-passes the Englewood station. So Junior had a nice long ride to Washington.

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS
and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite, Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health!

REGARDLESS of how long you have been a sufferer, and how many medicines you have tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL, the wonderful mineral aid. Feel and enjoy the results one week after you start taking it. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil. NO harmful drugs, NO dope — is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments — highly recommended by the medical profession.

FOR THOUSANDS of years ever since Hipocrates was the father of medicine, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. If you suffer from nutritional anemia, nervousness, lack of vitality and energy see what GEO-MINERAL will do for you.

Amazing Results

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid coddition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of their doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgie. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

Wonder Minerals

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities — poisonous waste — coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

Read What They Say!

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds."

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

Jail Escapees Plead Guilty

Two of the three prisoners who escaped from Allegany County last week presented pleas of guilty to jail break charges yesterday in Circuit Court before Associate Judges George Henderson and Oliver H. Bruce, Jr.

In addition to the jail break pleas, Kenneth H. Holly entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of burglary and Donald F. Alburtis a plea of not guilty to a breaking and entering charge. Helen V. Meade, chambermaid in a local hotel who is accused of aiding in the escape, has not pled. A third escapee, Leonard L. Welsh, is still at large.

Others arraigned yesterday and their pleas are Carl M. Moxley, guilty to a burglary charge; Carl Wilson Wolford, not guilty to a charge of assault with intent to rob; and Clyde John Spaulding, guilty to three charges of false pretenses.

Judges Henderson and Bruce found Robert D. Kirby guilty on a charge of paternity at a closed hearing yesterday. He was ordered to supply bond of $500 and pay toward the support and maintenance of the child until the age of 16. He was also ordered to pay $116.50, the expenses of the mother's confinement. In default of bond, he faces one year in the Maryland House of Correction.

15 Second Class Scouts Approved

Fifteen Boy Scouts were approved for second class rank at a Board of Review for Cumberland District, Potomac Council, held Tuesday night at the Boy Scout office on Union Street.

Approved from Troop 2, sponsored by the B. and O. Y.M.C.A., were Robert Coleman, Leon Shumaker, Edgar Dawson, R. Windemuth and George Hiett.

From Troop 71, Ridgeley, were Harold Kesner, Frank Byer, Robert McCullough, Carl Jewell, James Sleeman, George Billmyre, James VanMeter, Jimmy Summers, Herbert Buser and James Baker.

Merit badges were also approved for two scouters. Robert B. Baker, Troop 71, qualified for plumbing, marksmanship and home repairs, and John B. Wagner, scoutmaster, Troop 71, satisified requirements for airplane structure, airplane design, aeronautics, aerodynamics and marksmanship.

Advancement Chairman Francis T. Bell explained it has been decided that a scout must have attained first class rank before qualifying for merit badges. Previously, five badges were open to second class scouts.

He also stated that the Board of Review no longer examines candidates for the badges. Applications must be signed by the badge counsellor and in the hands of the chairman by Saturday before a Board of Review meeting. Candidates for rank are still examined by the board.

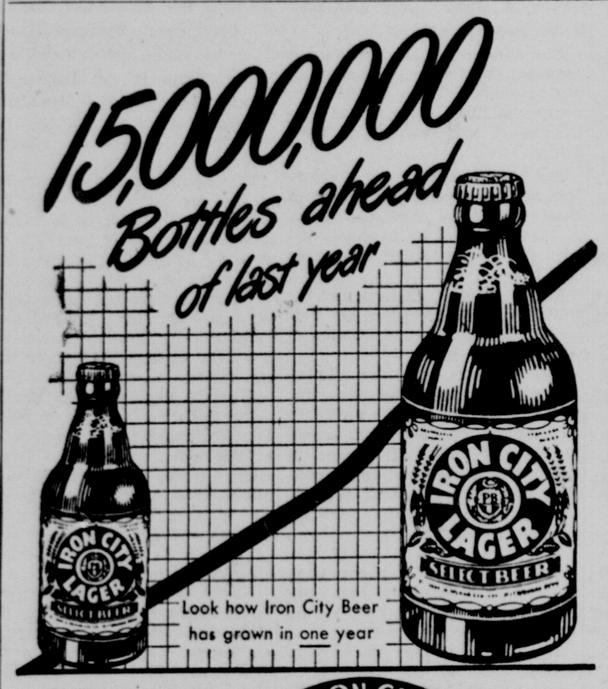

Serving on the board with Beall last night were William T. Allee, southern neighborhood commissioner, Richar D. Wagner, scoutmaster, Troop 2, and Bernard J. Beck, scoutmaster, Troop 8, St. Mary's.

A Court of Honor will be held sometime in May, Ball said.

Towson Woman Tells Jury How She Shot Mate

Says Husband Beat Her Before Killing

TOWSON, Md., April 20 (AP)—Between sobs, Mrs. Monette Burns told a jury today how she shot her estranged husband after she and a date found him behind a bedroom door.

The 40-year-old brunette, who modeled and was on the stage in her early days in Ohio, said Emmett T. Burns beat her terribly before she went to her dresser and got a .25 automatic.

"I don't know what I did then," she testified. "I saw blood spurting from his face and the clearest thing I remember is the three reports from the gun. I then called police."

Mrs. Burns is on trial before an all-male jury in Baltimore Circuit Court on a murder charge.

She broke down on the stand after telling of the shots and the trial was interrupted briefly.

Burns, 38, was shot to death early on Sunday morning, March 6. The couple had not lived together for almost a year.

Mrs. Burns had met Capt. Daniel Lynch, an Army medical officer stationed in Washington, at a bar in Baltimore.

She was showing him to the guest room of her home in the northern suburbs of Baltimore when Burns emerged from behind the door. Lynch testified he left the house after a scuffle with Burns and while a violent argument was going on between husband and wife.

Mrs. Burns said on the stand she had been married three times, first at 17 to a William Atkins. She was born and reared in Athens, O. She came to Baltimore in 1932.

Her second husband, Reginald J. Ritter, died in 1943 after they had been married three years. From his insurance she bought her home and put money in a savings account.

She and Burns, then in the Navy, were married in the fall of 1943. He treated her wonderfully except when he was drinking, she testified. In 1948 she put him out of the house because he was drinking heavily. They reconciled but six weeks later she put him out again. He had beaten and choked her several times, she said.

Racial Units To End May 1 In Army, Navy

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—The Armed Services have been ordered to come up by May 1 with their plans toward ending racial discrimination.

Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson made public today an April 6 directive which laid down a policy of "equality of treatment and opportunity" regardless of race, color, religion or national origin.

Last summer President Truman directed that such a policy be put into effect as rapidly as possible without imparing efficiency or morale.

Johnson told the services to examine their present practices and "determine what forward steps can and should be made."

1. To meet the requirements of the services for qualified individuals, all personnel will be considered on the basis of individual merit and ability and must qualify according to the prescribed standards for enlistment, attendance at school, promotion, assignment to specific duties, etc.

New York City College Students Call Off Strike

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP) — Students at the City College of New York today called off a strike protesting alleged racial discrimination by two teachers.

A strike committee said the week-old walkout "has already had its maximum effect." It added, however, that the action today was not to be construed as an abandonment of the aims behind the walkout.

"We will not cease until our school is rid of bigotry," said an announcement.

President Harry Wright declined comment on the strike's end.

Only a handful of pickets were on duty as classes opened earlier, in contrast with large crowds in previous days.

The announcement said the strike "has been effective in making the Knickerbocker case and the Davis case tremendous public issues."

In calling the strike the leaders demanded open hearings of student charges against two faculty members.

Prof. William E. Knickerbocker was accused of anti-Semitism and William D. Davis, an instructor, of segregating whites and negroes in a dormitory.

Knickerbocker was cleared by the board of higher education. Davis was shifted from his post as dormitory manager to a teaching assignment.

State Education Commissioner Francis T. Spaulding announced yesterday in Albany that a hearing on Knickerbocker would be held April 29.

The strike began April 11 in a flurry of fist fights and arrests. Seventeen pickets were seized by the police.

Beery Disinherited Boy, Mother Says His

LOS ANGELES, April 20. (AP)—Wallace Beery's will, filed for probate today, disclosed that the actor expressly disinherited a baby boy whose mother filed a paternity suit against him.

Attorneys said the Beery estate is worth "in excess of a half million dollars." Most of it is willed to Carol Ann Beery, 19, his adopted daughter, William C. Beery, his brother and Noah Beery Jr., his nephew.

Beery, 64, died Friday night. His will, dated March 22, stated that certain paternity proceedings were in court but that the child, Johan, 13 months, is not his baby.

Under no circumstances is he to inherit any portion or receive any gift," said the will, referring to Johan.

Mrs. Gloria Schumm, 33, a film bit player, claims that Beery was the father of her child. She asserted in her paternity suit, which had not been tried when Beery died, that she and the actor were intimate in his Beverly Hills home in May of 1947.

Youth Uses Cap Gun To Holdup Taxi

SALISBURY, Md., April 20 (AP) — A 17-year-old Salisbury boy has been turned over to Juvenile authorities on charges of holding up a cab driver with a cap pistol.

A hearing has not been scheduled.

State police and Salisbury officers arrested the youth at his home on the complaint of Paul Raymond Evans, 42-year-old negro cab driver.

Shy Mother Has Triplets At Home

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., April 20 (AP) — A Chinese student's wife, alone and too frightened to call a doctor, gave birth to triplets unattended today. All the babies died.

The father, Chia Yung Chen, said his wife did not expect a child until August. He was away studying last night, he related, and on returning home this morning he found his wife in bed with the three babies.

A doctor was summoned and the babies were taken to a hospital. One was pronounced dead on arrival and the second and third died within a few hours. Chia said his wife speaks little English, is shy and was too frightened to call a doctor in his absence.

Drugs That May Relieve Menstrual Pain Described

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

DETROIT, April 20 (AP) — Drugs that may help in relieving menstrual pain were described today to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

They were tested in studies at Memphis, Tenn., by Drs. R. A. Woodbury and P. C. Feng of the University of Tennessee.

Menstrual pain and accidental abortion often are due to an allergic reaction to one of the body's own hormones, vassopressin, they said. Women who suffer menstrual pains generally are hypersensitive to this hormone.

Using rabbits, they tested drugs that counteract the action of vassopressin. The most effective so far are two hormones that work against each other, they said. One is the pregnancy hormone, progesterone. The other is the male sex hormone, testosterone. Together they relax the uterus and counteract vassopressin, they said. The research is sponsored by the U. S. Public Health Service.

New clues to the causes of high blood pressure, cirrhosis of the liver, shock and heart failure were reported by Drs. Abraham Mazur and Ephraim Shorr of Cornell University Medical College and New York Hospital, New York.

The clues came in studies of the make-up and what happens to ferratin, a protein that contains iron. It plays an important role in regulating blood flow to the tissues.

In shock from blood loss through injury or in heart failure, when there is a lack of oxygen, ferratin is released into the blood from the liver, they said. It has the effect of relaxing muscular vessels in the tiny blood vessels, the capillaries. It acts along with another substance from the kidney that has an opposite effect on capillaries.

New methods of reading electrical records from the heart can pinpoint different troubles there, helping in better treatment, two Yale University physiologists announced. The methods show more accurately which portions of the heart may be falling down on the job, where blood clots may have formed, and what the starting point is of skipped heart beats, said Drs. Louis H. Nahum and Hhyman M. Chernoff of the Yale School of Medicine.

The electrical records are called electrocardiograms. They developed a new theory of how the electrical impulses arise in the heart during heartbeat. This, plus findings on animals that also apply to humans makes better diagnosis possible.

Face Holdup Charges

BALTIMORE, April 20 (AP) — Roy Mann, 26, and two women will be brought to Baltimore from Greensburg, Pa., tomorrow to face charges growing out of two local bank holdups which netted $33,000, state's Attorney J. Bernard Wells announced.

2,000 Miners Walk Off Job In Hard Field

LANSFORD, Pa., April 20 (AP) — More than 2,000 anthracite employes walked off their jobs today in support of 10 miners staging a sitdown strike deep in a coal pit.

The sitdown strike was started yesterday by 13 miners in protest of pay reductions. Three of the men, weary and dirty, came to the surface today and returned to their homes.

The 10 remaining below the surface sent up appeals for support of nearly 4,000 other hard coal miners in the Coaldale and Tamaqua district pits of the Lehigh Navigation Coal Co.

Fred Gallagher, chairman of the United Mine Workers Panther Valley Committee, called a meeting of miners for tonight.

The strike is the third sitdown stemming from a long-standing dispute over pay for days on which the men leave the pit before the scheduled end of their shift. Under the UMW-Anthracite Operators agreement this is permitted when working "conditions" in the mine are considered "bad."

Union sources said UMW Vice President Thomas Kennedy wrote Monday he believed the case could be "argued convincingly" to the Anthracite Conciliation Board.

Meantime, the men underground had almost all the comforts of home. They had electric lights, room in which to try to make themselves comfortable, fresh air supplied by mine fans and plenty of good food sent down from the surface.

Air Power Alone Can't Win Wars Symington Says

Denies Air Force Has Such Ideas

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 20 (AP)—Air Secretary Symington tonight disclaimed any idea that the air force alone could win a war.

In an address prepared for delivery to the Charleston Chamber of Commerce, Symington said "there have been stories that the air force believes it can handle the security of the United States alone."

"Nothing could be farther from the truth," Symington asserted, adding:

"For many months all members of the Air Force have been emphasizing our desire to be a part of the joint team of land, sea and air and I personally, in many states, have given the following message:

" 'The air force has never claimed a strategic air offensive alone could win any possible future war. We know no war will be won until our fighters roam at will over an aggressor's country in the daytime —and to accomplish this we need a fine Army and a fine Navy. x x x

"Although many of these ground troops will be flown in by planes, most of them must be carried to other countries in ships, and to that end our great Navy must be certain to keep the sea lanes clear.' "

Noting that Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson's home is West Virginia, Symington praised his record as Former Assistant Secretary of War from 1937 to 1940. He said "it was Louis Johnson who pushed the first long range bomber program against doubting Thomases, as well as the development of facilities to produce, in mass, airplanes and airplane engines." Then he added:

"The air force is mighty glad to have Louis Johnson back. He is a leader and it will be our pleasure to serve him and, I assure you that the Air Force appreciates the critical need for true unification of the armed forces and will support him in every way to achieve that goal set by President Truman."

The British took the island of Cyprus from Turkey in 1878 as part of a plan for the introduction of reforms in Asia Minor.

Baltimore Employs Full Time Industrial Location Director

William Pennell Rock, Chicago, has been appointed to direct the new industry location program of the Baltimore Association of Commerce, it was announced yesterday by G. H. Pouder, executive vice president of the association.

Rock, who has been in charge of industrial development of the Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago for the past three years, has assumed his new duties at association headquarters, Pouder said. His efforts will be directed toward securing the location in Baltimore of new industries, and it is expected that his duties will involve personal contacts with officials of companies now located in all parts of the country.

Pouder explained that Rock will be in charge of a new division, established for this particular purpose, of the Association's Industrial Bureau of which H. Findlay French is the director.

The association launched this year a greatly expanded program for port, industrial and civic development. The program is designed to strengthen Baltimore's economy and to keep the city in a position to move forward as a seaport and a center of industry and commerce.

Pouder called attention to the report of the Association's special industrial committee, headed by Walter Evans, which stated that "to maintain and improve Baltimore's industrial position, in the face of intensive competition by other cities, is clearly necessary under today's conditions. To assure Baltimore's continued growth as a major center of manufacturing enterprise will require the expenditure of new funds directed specifically to the attraction of new industries to this city."

During World War II, Rock served as a commander in the Navy, being assigned as executive officer for over three years at one of the Navy's largest torpedo plants.

Turkey Has Tough Winter

ISTANBUL—(AP)—This has been Turkey's worst winter in 20 years. Suffering has been intense. Scores have perished across the broad Anatolian plateau. Communications have taken a fearful beating. Schools have been closed because of an epidemic of influenza.

Not since 1929 has Istanbul experienced so many heavy snow storms. High winds have churned the Black Sea, the Bosphorus and the Sea of Marmara to the point where shipping frequently was suspended.

A freighter bringing coal to suffering Istanbul was blown on the rocks near Zonguldak on the Black Sea and lost with 22 men. Several kayiks, small motorships that are the life line of Turkey, have gone down.

If there be any blessings in Istanbul's constant snowstorms, they would be found in the employment of thousands of otherwise idle men to mop up the streets. Throughout the winter, new snow has fallen almost as soon as the last had been cleaned up. And, since there is no snow-removing equipment, this is a hand labor task.

About one fifth of the nation's land now available for crops has been made arable or more productive by drainage improvements, a Twentieth Century Fund survey points out.

The largest denomination U. S. bill is the $100,000 bill, which bears a picture of President Woodrow Wilson.

Letter-Writing Leatherneck

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—(AP)—Marine Cpl. Ernest Leder, a clerk typist, has written what is believed to be one of the longest letters ever set down by a Marine. It contained 64 pages of 8 by 13½ inch paper, written in long hand, and took the inspired young leatherneck a total of 16 hours to write.

This was not the first longish letter Cpl. Leder has written. A few weeks ago he sat down and in about ten hours wrote 40 pages. The epistles, as you might imagine, are written to the corporal's girl friend, of Machias, New York.

ELKINS, W. Va., April 20—The Parsons High School Panthers dropped their opening track meet of the season here to Elkins High's thinclads by a 64 to 36 score.

Twelve events featured the meet with the visitors being victorious in only three—the 100 and 220 yard sprints and the medley relay. Elkins copped the remaining nine inculding all field events.

The 880 run was the only event in which a clean sweep was scored with Greathouse, Robertson and Urey of Elkins coming in in that order.

Irwin paced the victors with 14¾ points collected on firsts in the pole vault and high jump, a second in the broad jump and a member of Elkins' winning mile relay team.

The meet was conducted on a point basis of 5 points for first, 3 for second and 1 for third while the relays counted 5 for the winner and nothing for the loser.

Orioles To Field New Team For Season's Opener

Cellar Club Gets Revamping; Plays Montreal Tonight

BALTIMORE, April 20. (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles, with hopes high for being a first division contender, trot out for opening of the 1949 International Baseball League tomorrow night against the Montreal Royals.

Montreal will be in town for a three-game series.

Illustrating how the Orioles cleaned house after finishing in the cellar last season, not one of the nine men who will take the field tomorrow were in a Baltimore uniform last year.

Entirely New Team

Manager Tommy Thomas' team is made up entirely of seasoned ball players, though. All of them have had plenty of minor and major league experience and there isn't a youngster on the nine.

The switch in working agreements from Cleveland to the St. Louis Browns is reflected heavily in the lineup. Six of the players performed last year with Toledo, a St. Louis farm club. Four of them in previous years with the Browns themselves.

Bryan Stephens, who will get the opening pitching assignment, comes directly from a season with St. Louis.

The outer garden will be patrolled by Butch Woyt, Glenn McQuillen and Joe Frazier. Woyt and McQuillen were with Toledo last year and Frazier with San Antonio. Woyt will be playing against one of his former clubs, having played for Montreal in 1947.

McQuillen Batting Champ

McQuillen, batting champ of the American Association with .329 average last year, is a graduate of Western Maryland College.

Behind the plate will be Frank Mancuso, another ex-Toledo player. He's been catching baseballs in professional circles since 1937 and was up with both St. Louis and the Washington Senators.

ROOKIE IS CONGRATULATED—Virgil Trucks (left), Detroit Tigers' right hander, attempts to muss up John Groth's hair as he congratulates the rookie Bengal outfielder in the dressing room after yesterday's game in which Groth hit a grand slam home run in the 8th ining to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 5-2 at Briggs Stadium, Detroit. It was Groth's third homer in two days and earned Trucks his first pitching victory of the season. Groth has now made five hits in seven trips to the plate for the Tigers.

Joe Beck Hurls 5-Hitter; Cage Gets Three Hits

Second Win In Two Days For Sentinels; Play Central Friday

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's Fort Hill High School Sentinels, city and Bi-State Conference defending champs, won their second baseball game in two days when they downed the Kitzmiller High tossers yesterday afternoon at Fort Hill by the score of 7 to 1.

Lefty Joe Beck went the distance for the Cavanaughmen and tossed a five-hitter at the Garrett County aggregation and fanned six but nine bases on balls kept him in hot water most of the contest.

Sentinels Get 15 Hits

Meanwhile the Sentinels pounded Sharpless, Kitzmiller's starting pitcher, for 15 hits including a double and triple by Ronnie Cage and doubles by Gene Mason and Paul McGregor.

Fort Hill opened the scoring in the first frame when Charley Lattimer singled with one out and went to third on Cage's double. Beck then singled both runs across to win his own ball game.

In the third inning the Sentinels put the game on ice with a three-run outburst featured by four singles, an error and two stolen bases.

Kitzmiller got its only run in the fifth stanza when Barger walked and Keller singled to right after Sharpless had fanned, sending Barger to second. Barger then stole third and came home on an infield out.

The Sentinels added single tallies in the fifth and sixth innings to finish the scoring.

Cage Paces Attack

Cage and Bob Hicks paced the 15-hit Sentinel attack with three hits apiece with Cage's blows representing five in six trips to the plate in the two games played to date by the Scarlet and White nine. Included among the centerfielder's collection are two triples and a double.

Hillegas sparkled afield for the winners with two nice running catches of foul flies near the right field foul line.

Fort Hill will play its third game of the week when it opens defense of its Bi-State crown Friday at Lonaconing, crossing bats with Central High School's batsmen.

Next week the Sentinels will also play three games meeting Hyndman in the Pennsylvania town Tuesday in another conference contest and going to Hagerstown Thursday while their first intra-city tilt will be with LaSalle's Explorers Friday, April 29th, at Fort Hill. The Box:

Chapman's Hit Wins

PHILADELPHIA, April 20 (INS) —Sam Chapman's single with one out and the bases full in the tenth gave the Philadelphia Athletics a 3-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox today before 7,425 fans.

Joe Coleman of the A's and Ellis Kinder of the Red Sox hooked up in a pitching duel which Coleman won.

Elmer Valo started the tenth with a single to center, his fourth hit of the day. Johnny Pesky then threw Ferris Fain's bunt into the dirt.

Kinder bobbled Taft Wright's bunt to fill the bases. Hank Majeski fouled out and then Chapman slammed his fourth hit of the game to send Valo home with the winning run. Box:

Beall Trounces Grantsville, 18-7

Cullen Fans 13; Hits Triple For Winners

FROSTBURG, April 20—Coach Rick Sprolls made a successful debut as the new baseball coach at Beall High School of Frostburg as the Mountaineers opened their 1949 season by trouncing Grantsville High's tossers 18-7 yesterday at Frostburg.

Danny Cullen set the visitors down with five hits and fanned 13 enemy batsmen as his mates pounded out 12 bingles including a home run by Brady and a triple by the pitcher. In addition the Frostburgers collected a total of eight bases off the Grantsville twirler, Buckel.

Grantsville took a 3-0 lead in the top half of the initial inning but Brady's four-ply swat gave the Sprollmen a run in the bottom half of the frame. A two-run outburst in the fourth tied the score for Frostburg but Grantsville again took the lead 4-3 with a pair of tallies in the fifth.

The Mounties then sewed up the contest with a 10-run splurge in the fifth and added five more in the sixth to outdistance the losers.

Brady and Cullen shared four of Frostburg's bingles while Miller and Kelly each had two hits for Grantsville. The Box:

Local Angler Gets Five Pound Trout In Lake Koon

T. W. Clark of 511 Fort Avenue, this city, caught a 5½ pound rainbow trout yesterday afternoon at Lake Koon while fishing with his wife and several friends.

The big fish measured 21 inches in length and although he has caught several which were longer or heavier in the past, Mr. Clark claims that this is the biggest one for its length that he has hooked.

The game warden at the lake measured and weighed the fish.

Errors Defeat Giants

BROOKLYN, April 20 (AP)—Taking advantage of four New York errors and a streak of wildness on the part of Pitcher Sheldon Jones, the Brooklyn Dodgers scored four unearned runs to defeat the Giants today, 6-2.

A crowd of 21,864 saw the Dodgers collect only four hits off three Giants pitchers. But the Dodgers were presented with seven bases on balls to register their second straight triumph over their interborough rivals.

Ralph Branca, going the route for the Dodgers, also gave up four hits including a home run to Sid Gordon in the sixth inning. The other marker off Branca came in the first on two walks and Johnny Mize's long single off the right field wall. Box:

Groth Hits Third Homerun As Detroit Downs White Sox, 5-2

Bats In Five Runs; Circuit Blow Comes In 8th With Bases Full

DETROIT, Mich. April 2 (AP) — Detroit's 22-year-old rookie centerfielder Johnny Groth drove in five runs today on a grand slam home run, a double and single to give the Tigers a 5 to 2 victory over the Chicago White Sox before 11,671 fans.

The home run was his third in two days of the 1949 season.

Groth has collected five hits in seven times at bat in two days.

His double drove in Detroit's first run in the sixth inning. He clouted his base-clearing home run in the eighth. It came off righthander Randy Gumpert, who had walked two men and yielded a single to Hoot Evers.

Groth's efforts saved the day for Virgil Trucks, who had given up two White Sox runs on two walks, a single and a double by Catcher Joe Tipton in the second inning. Trucks settled down after that and let only five men get on base in the final seven innings. Box:

Shakeme, Derby Hopeful, Cops Lanark Purse

Returns $10.40 For $2 At Keeneland

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 20 (AP) — Hal Price Headley's Kentucky Derby nominee, Shakeme, proved himself a good distance horse today by scoring a length victory over other three-year-olds in the $2,250 Lanark Purse at Keeneland.

The son of Menow, Headley's only Derby eligible, scored handily in the mile and a sixteenth feature, overtaking Blue Jet a few strides from the wire. His time was a good 1:47.

Blue Jet and Abbe's Image locked in a duel for the lead in the early stages of the race and Blue Jet was able to hold the pace until Shakeme made his move in the stretch.

The winner returned $10.40, $4.80 and $3.80 across the board. Blue Jet paid $5 and $4.40. Fish Fry, the third horse by a photo nose over Thank You Sir, paid $6.50. Lovely Nymth, another Derby nominee, was sixth.

Baby Comet Cops Feature

JAMAICA RACE TRACK, April 20 (AP) — Juvenile misses had their first chance at rich purses here today in the 40th running of the Rosedale with P. A. Markey's Baby Comet a galloping winner by three lengths over George D. Widener's Rare Perfume. The favored Abbie Co outphotoed Airolo for the show award.

The daughter of Teddys Comet-Rose Baby was clocked in 100 for the five furlongs with Albert Schmidl in the irons.

Sunshiny weather brought out a crowd of 28,598.

Crust Of Bread Puts Player In Hospital

BROOKLYN, April 20 (AP)—Joe Lafata, reserve first baseman of the New York Giants, was put out of action for at least a month today by a hastily swallowed crust of bread.

The rookie, who comes from Detroit and played last season with Minneapolis of the American Association, was placed on the disabled list when X-rays disclosed he had developed an abscess of one of his lungs.

Club officials said the abscess was caused by a crust of bread which lodged just above the lung and was not digested.

Baby Comet had started twice previously in three furlong dashes at Hialeah, winning her previous outing by six lengths. 20 to 1 in the morning line, Baby Comet was well supported in late betting, returning a $14.10 mutuel.

O. G. Kelley Victor

LINCOLN, R. I. April 20 (AP) — J. H. Carr's O. G. Kelley, scored his first victory of the Lincoln Downs spring meeting today as he won the Willie Pep purse before a crowd of 8,200.

The five-year-old son of Gino came from behind to score by three quarters of a length over H. A. Kimball's Octorora. He travelled the seven furlongs in 1:26, only three fifths of a second slower than the track record.

O. G. Kelley paid $12.20 $5.00 and $2.40. Octorora paid $3.60 and $2.20 after finishing two lengths in front of the favorite, Circle K Farm's Athlete. The latter paid $2.20 to show.

O. G. Kelley caught Octorora as they neared the head of the stretch and under vigorous handling by Jockey Dick Destasio got up in the final stages. Athlete closed ground gamely in the late stages and was ten lengths in front of the Shangrila Stable's Royal Foot at the finish.

Calumet Entry Wins Philadelphia Stakes

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 20 (AP)—The powerful Calumet Farm made its first display of stakes winning form on the Maryland circuit this year by taking first and third place in the Philadelphia Handicap.

Pep Well beat out Mrs. E. Du Pont Weir's Royal Governor in a photo finish of the six-furlong race. Faultless, the 1947 preakness winner for Calumet, took the show money.

Despite the formidable entry and feared Calumet name, the bettors laid off the winner which returned $13.20 for $2.

Pep Well's winning time was 1.11 3/5. His share of the purse was $9,120.

Eleven horses started in the Philadelphia. It was Pep Well's second victory in four starts this year.

Along The Potomac To Washington

By J. GLENN BEALL

Representative Sixth District, Maryland

CONGRESS last week passed the Economic Cooperation Administration appropriation totalling $5.5 billion, in addition to a record peacetime defense bill of $16 billion, and a $7.5 billion appropriation bill to finance 28 independent federal agencies in the next fiscal year.

In all, the House of Representatives voted $24 billion in one four-day session—by all odds a record for peacetime spending, or authorization to spend. Thus far, the Congress has authorized the executive agencies to spend more than President Truman asked in his proposed budget in early January, or the items covered.

In short, it appeared certain that the Democratic 81st Congress will authorize the expenditure of a good deal more than $42 billion in the next fiscal year. This will be the greatest peacetime budget in national history and it will be almost four times as much as the federal government spent in the last peacetime year before World War II.

President Truman told his press conference that a deficit already apears certain unless taxes are increased before Congress adjourns. As the deficit becomes more and more apparent to more Congressmen, the sentiment against a tax-increase seems to be calming down to some extent, although it would be a bold prophet indeed who would predict what will happen during the remainder of this session of Congress.

I voted for the ECA appropriation, although I must confess that it was with some apprehensions about the manner in which the money is being spent. All Congressmen want to do everything possible to contain Russia, and, in fact, to push the Russian expansionists back. Also, most Congressmen want to help our friends in Western Europe.

But I feel there is a limit to which we can go in appropriating American money. I pointed out in a speech that there ought to be greater control over the expenditure of this Marshall Aid plan money, for it is costing every man and women and child in this nation $35 a year. It was noted that Great Britain, one of the principal recipients of ERP aid, enjoyed a $3 billion budget surplus last year and actually lent $35 million to Russia. Also, it was noted that many of the countries to which we are shipping goods under the ERP are re-shipping the same goods, or similar commodities, to Russia. This in an intolerable situation and I expect to work to prevent such anomalous and contradictory action by the ECA whenever and wherever possible.

In the supply bill for the armed services. I was glad to vote for the lion's share to be given to the Air Force, which can continue to build toward its 70 groups, as the Congress far-sightedly had ordered a year ago. The Air Force received $2 billion more that the Army and $1 billion more that the Navy.

Washington newspapers were not able to publish for three days during the week before Easter, giving high officials of the federal government a very good idea of the importance and usefulness of daily newspapers in the affairs of all large cities. More than one Congressman commented that life just can't be the same without newspapers. Nothing proves the indispensability of any commodity or service in modern life more clearly or quickly than for it to be denied quickly to a great number of persons. They become aware immediately of the importance of the item. Newspapers are certainly an important part of every American's life these days, despite the addition of many competing forms of media, and the growth and development of others.

UNDER THE DOME

A meeting was arranged with the officials and members of the Maryland State Roads Commission for this morning. I will attend this meeting which will be held in Mayor Kelly's office and the proposed Rockville bypass will be discussed. I sincerely hope this matter can be worked out satisfactorily for the people of Rockville.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

We have just taken off again and the wild blue yonder looks great from here. Yes, sir, this is being written at 19,000 feet as we, the cast of the show—Doris Day, Hy Averback, Irene Ryan, Billy Farrell, Les Brown and his orchestra, the Titans and yours truly—wing our way along on the second installment of our cross-country jaunt.

On our first tour we learned that flying is the most practical means of transportation. The only way the audience can get even is with ack-ack.

When we hit Phoenix, Ariz., we'll do the first of 24 performances in 16 days and we are all planning to work very fast. This isn't only for efficiency . . . . it's a safety measure.

Doris Day will work so fast she won't even sing songs . . . just titles.

Les Brown is prepared for the speedy trip. He brought along a starting gun and the band will go into each number from a kneeling position.

But no kidding, this plane . . . "The Pale Face Special" . . . is really beginning to feel like home. In fact, right now I have my pipe and slippers and I am settling down with a good book before the fire in the stewardess' eyes.

Television and movies may get together. Yes sir, Jerry Wald, movie producer, says that television should collaborate with movies by showing high spots from future pictures to advertise them.

If the scheme goes through all television sets will have to be sold with built-in popcorn machines.

Of course, they'll only show portions of each picture and you'll never know what the plot is about. Plot . . . that's "Boy meets girl, boy loses girl and if boy doesn't get girl, boy loses audience."

For those guys who see their television in bars it might get complicated. Picture a guy staggering up to his wife, then trying to explain how he saw five pictures in one evening.

And you'll meet a producer and tell him how much you liked the coming attractions on television. He'll say, "that's the trouble. We spent so much money on the coming attractions, we can't afford the picture."

Mineral Group Receives Letter Of Thanks From School In Finland

KEYSER, W. Va.—A letter was received here recently by Miss Jeanette McGuffie, chairman of the Mineral County Branch, Save the Children Federation, from a school in Suomi, Finland, which is sponsored by the local branch.

The letter was written by the teacher of the school, thanking the Federation for clothing and other items they have sent. It states:

"We send you our warmest and heartfelt wishes to you our glorified friends. We were so overjoyed when we received an announcement from the Railroad Station that there was a package awaiting us from America.

"Your package came at a most opportune time and the contents contained many useful articles. Our thanks to you again. The pencil sharpener is in constant use. The children are now clothed entirely in American clothing.

"Now as to our school. It is a very small structure, where we have but one teacher and a man-principal. The pupils are divided into grades and attend school as follows:

"First to third grades attend school from the 10th day of August to the 31st day of September and again on May 1 to May 15th. Fourth to Seventh grades attend school from the 1st of October to the 31st of April. Eighth graders attend night school during the winter season.

"As yet, we do not have our own school, but rent the small school mentioned above. It does not contain all the modern conveniences, but we are pleased with the bare necessities and are making the best of it. We have 28 pupils in our school and absenteeism is uncommon.

"The clothing was so distributed that every child received a coat and a pair of shoes, and in needier cases the additional clothing was distributed accordingly. The children have a great distance to travel between their home and school The children in this school are of a poor class and their fathers are engaged in the timber business. Most of the families live in crude homes along the river front. We do not have any telephones or any roads, only small paths, which were made by the constant traveling of the children.

"When we received the package we immediately noticed that it came from our fine friends who live in Keyser, W. Va. We tried and located Keyser on the map. We assumed that you have no snow there as we have a very mild winter here with only occasional snows.

"We took pictures today and as soon as they are developed, I will send the same to our wonderful friends and will write a more descriptive letter.

"In behalf of the children and myself, we send our sincerest and most heartfelt thanks.

"Save children through your organization.

(Signed)—Rauha Maatta
Kajaani Siltala Ounasksen Koulu
Suomi, Finland."

"You may write us directly to the above address. Thank you for the fountain pen. Was it meant for the teacher?"

The letter was written in Finnish and was translated by Mrs. Virginia Smith, Piedmont, secretary of a local attorney. Miss McGuffie explained that last year $150 was sent to the National Save The Children Headquarters, New York, which purchased clothing and other items which were sent at Christmas time and received in Finland in March. The letter of thanks was dated April 1. The local organization of Women's Council of Churches gave $100 of the $150. The balance was given by other contributors.

Other officers of the local branch of the Federation are A. T. McGee, secretary; A. G. Springer, treasurer; Mrs. Thelma Hovis, clothing director, and Mrs. Orville Crites, co-clothing director.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, April 20—(INS)—I get it right straight that Sam Goldwyn and David Niven have had trouble. Of course, Sam is in the hospital in New York, but he's getting along beautifully, and is not too sick to have his way. Friends have tried to act as go - between, without any success.

Louella Parsons

Just what the trouble is I don't know. I do know David may not make that picture for Sir Alexander Korda — it's his last one under his Sam Goldwyn deal. His contract is up next year, and at that time he is definitely leaving the Goldwyn studios. He's been with Sam about 15 years, and in that time they have battled and made up—but this time the breach is too serious.

Shirley Temple is the ideal girl, of course, to star in "A Kiss For Corliss," sequence to F. Hugh Herbert's "Kiss and Tell," which Shirley made with Jerome Courtland for Columbia. That's what Coke Miller says, who is producing it at General Service Studio.

But he tells me that although he has been talking to Danny O'Shea at the Selznick studio, no deal has yet been made. He's also trying to get others who were in the cast, but being in the talking stage, nothing has been accomplished.

•—•—•

Charles Morton, editor of Atlantic Monthly, sends me an advance article by John Ashworth, who teaches English composition at Columbia University. Professor Ashworth sides with many London critics in blasting Laurence Oliver's "Hamlet" the Hollywood "Oscar - winning movie."

•—•—•

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

What is Arlene Dahl going to do when both her attractive eastern suitors get here next week? Congressman John Kennedy (son of Joe) and air executive, Bonnie Bonnafay, are due here about the same time and both are smitten with Arlene.

Gertrude Lawrence cabled Van Johnson asking for two or three of his original paintings to be raffled at the benefit for the British actors orphanage in London. Van, very pleased, is sending four.

I've heard those rumors that Cyd Charisse and Tony Martin are having trouble—but Cyd says there's nothing to the talk. She even called to tell me that Tony is going to Buffalo for two weeks' singing engagement and that all is well between them, "Every time Tony leaves town without me, the talk crops up," Cyd said.

Henry Willson, back in town after a three month's vacation in Bermuda, at the Mocambo with Vera Ellen.

Jill Faulkner, daughter of Author William Faulkner, tossed a "hot dog" party in honor of Claude Jarman Jr., and the rest of the "Intruder In the Dust" company in Mississippi.

Cleatus Caldwell leaves for Chicago the end of the week to be with Bob Hutton who is opening there in "Mr. Adam" on the stage.

It was her old beau, buying Ann Miller's dinner at the Kings and not Bill O'Connor with whom she's been seen so much lately.

Don't get excited about Leo McCarey paying a visit to the 20th Century-Fox lot. It was for Mark Kelly's birthday lunch in the commissary and not to huddle with headman Zanuck about a movie.

Horace Schmidlapp is putting up the cash for "Brooklyn, U. S. A." on the London stage this summer. Wonder if Pat Smart, his new heart, will be around?

Andy Russell and his wife are driving the new car they bought in Detroit to the Kentucky Derby, lucky them.

Joan Caulfield and her ma have driven to San Francisco for two weeks to be with Betty who is playing there with Lynn Fontanne and Alfred Lunt.

June Havoc and Bill Spier are trying to get their new home at Malibu furnished before they take off for New York and Europe.

Lana Turner's favorite hairdresser, Helen Young, is opening her own beauty parlor in Beverly Hills and will toss a cocktail party for the opening tomorrow.

The Bob Robert's welcomed a baby boy. He is the producer of "Body and Soul" and "Force of Evil."

That's all today.

Much Screen Talent Billed For Radio Tonight

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, April 21—Seems almost like Taursday is movie night on the networks, what with all the screen talent billed in guest capacities, primarily acting.

There's Veronica Lake. She and Alan Ladd are to do the main acting for Sceen Guild of NBC at 10 when "The Blue Dahlia" unfolds.

There's Betty Grable who becomes a Suspense specialist on CBS at 9 by appearing in "The Copper Tea Strainer." Naturally, its a murder story.

There's June Allyson who gets the lead in the James Hilton Playhouse version of "Kitty Foyle" on CBS at 10.

MBS is getting ready to bring back the daytimer, "Against the Storm," in a new 30-minute a day version. So it plans a preview there of in the possible hope it can attract new listeners to the show. Time will be 8 in place of Plantation Jubilee, the series now occupying that time.

Phil Silvers, ex-raido and ex-television but continuing on Broadway, will be in radio again at 8:30 through a guest appearance in Theater USA of ABC. There will be others.

Maurice Chevalier and his recorded This is Paris, again is on the MBS schedule at 10. French talent makes up the guest roster in this prepared in advance program.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Rhapsody on One Finger

Jack Benny hasn't, as is sometimes rumored, only one joke on his show. He has quite a few. But the changes rung on his Number One Joke, the elder statesman of the jokes over there, are miraculously variegated. It seems incredible one joke could be put in so many different contexts, but the writers manage. I have a file of jokes on Jack Benny's stinginess I've collected over the years, and I thought I'd passthem on for the sake of posterity.

John Crosby

BENNY: Rochester, maybe you ought to go back to that golf course and look for my ball.

ROCHESTER: Boss, why don't we give up? We'll never find it.

BENNY: Give up? Rochester, suppose Columbus gave up. He never would have discovered America. Then what would have happened?

ROCHESTER: We'd be looking for that ball in Spain.

• — • — •

PROFESSOR: Monsieur Benny, you haven't paid me for your violin lesson.

BENNY: Oh, yes, yes, professor, How thoughless of me! Have a chair.

PROFESSOR: You gave me a chair last time. Today I want the money.

JIMMY STEWART: No, Jack, I'd feel better if I paid the luncheon tab.

BENNY: Well, if your health is involved, ok.

BENNY: Here's a nickel, Rochester. Telephone Phil Harris for me.

ROCHESTER. Oh boy! Look at the buffalo gulp for fresh air.

ROCHESTER: Oh oh! I dropped the nickel Mr. Benny gave me to phone. Doggone it, I can't see it anywhere.

BENNY: Here it is, Rochester. It rolled back to me.

• — • — •

MARY LIVINGSTON: For heaven's sake, Jack, why should you be worried. You must have millions of dollars down in your vault.

BENNY: I know but I don't want to break up the serial numbers.

I've got others, but I'd like to hurry along to another standby of the Benny program, the Maxwell joke.

BENNY: Rochester, you know that picture of my Maxwell that hangs in the den? That's the first car I ever owned.

ROCHESTER: That's the first car anybody ever owned.

• — • — •

ROCHESTER: Why don't you trade in the old car for a newer model?

BENNY: What for? This car takes us where we want to go.

ROCHESTER: I know, but look how much older we are when we get there.

• — • — •

There are other jokes on the Benny program. There are actually three Phil Harris jokes—his illiteracy, his insobriety, and his wife. And there's the Dennis Day joke.

DENNIS: (Entering his house) Mother! Oh, Mother!

VOICE: Your mother isn't here.

DENNIS: Who are you?

VOICE: Your father.

And there are old jokes on that show too, jokes that fit into no special category.

BENNY: Tell me, Phil, what did the doctors do about your headaches.

HARRIS: Plenty. First they gave me a complete physical. Then they gave me all the allergy tests. Then they checked my reflexes. Finally they psychoanalyzed me.

BENNY: And did they find out why you have headaches?

HARRIS: Yeah, my band plays too loud.

• — • — •

Just one more joke, the Benny age joke, and you'd better appreciate it too. These are $1,000-a-week writers and there are four of them and the above is a two-year collection, representing roughly $160,000 worth of brains.

BENNY: Gee, this is a nice picture of me, isn't it? And it's in color too.

ROCHESTER: It would be even nicer if your eyelashes weren't gray.

BENNY: My lashes aren't grey. It's just that my eyes are so blue they pick up lint.

It's a crime to put these jokes in print. They were written to be spoken with the expert inflections of Benny and the rest of his skillful cast. Still, every year I have to review Benny in some different way and this is the only thing I can think of this year.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Heavy Sales Of A. T. And T. Provide Market Excitement

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—American Telephone and Telegraph common stock, and a couple of other issues, provided the action in today's stock market.

A. T. and T. dropped to a net loss of 1⅝ points at 144 following stockholder approval of the biggest financial deal in the history of private industry. The final price was only a point from the 1949 low of 143 which in turn was a low since 1943.

Several substantial blocks of the big communications company's stock changed hands, including one of 4,500 shares.

Stockholders approved a plan for raising $395,000,000 by sale to stockholders of debentures which could be converted into capital stock. Issuance of additional capital stock, of course, would dilute the equity of present stockholders.

An increase in volume to 970,000 shares, largest since March 31, was due in large part to heavy trading in low-priced Commonwealth and Southern, either at the unchanged price of 3¾, also the close, or down ⅛ point. A total of 102,000 shares were traded, including one block of 23,000 shares.

Total sales yesterday amounted to 830,000 shares.

Hudson Motors, another one of the most active stocks, advanced ¾ to 13 following news that directors had boosted the quarterly dividend to 25 cents a share from 10 cents and voted an extra of 25 cents, in contrast with extras of 10 cents each in four preceding quarters.

Closing a trifle lower were Youngstown Street, American Radiator and Standard, Columbia Gas, Seaboard Airline R. R., General Motors, Chrysler, Firestone, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Southern California Edison, Air Reduction, Westinghouse Electric, Dow Chemical, du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Atlantic Coast Line, Texas Co., Superior Oil of California, and Eastern Air Lines.

General Electric, which dropped ⅜ yesterday despite a favorable first quarter earnings report, came back today for a gain of ½ at 37¼.

Others higher included Goodrich, United Aircraft, North American Co., Electric Power and Light, Consolidated Natural Gas, American Can, Johns-Manville, Philip Morris, American Tobacco, Southern Pacific, Nickel Plate, Chesapeake and Ohio, Pan American Airways, and Loew's.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .2 of one point to 63.5, equal to the low point of the month established on April 1. The industrial component took the widest swing with a loss of .4 of one point at 88.6. Utilities were a trifle lower and rails up a bit. Of the 967 issues which traded, 414 lost ground and 276 advanced.

Heavy selling of American Telephone and Telegraph issues and a new burst of activity in foreign loans gave the bond market its busiest day of the month.

By the time the market closed, $859,000 had changed hands in American Telephone transactions alone. Five of the company's issues were down fractions to more than a point, one posted a minor gain, one was unchanged and one was untraded. The 2¾s of 1957 took the biggest loss, off 1¼ at 103¾, a 1949 low.

The current boom in foreign dollar bonds expanded volume today to $980,000 over yesterday's $910,000. Trading in all classifications totalled $4,190,000, highest since turnover of $4,250,000 on March 30. Yesterday's volume was $3,560,000.

U. S. Treasury bonds were unchanged to slightly lower in some cases. The bank eligibles 2½s of September, 1972-67, were off 2-32 at 103 4-32.

Celanese Heads Say Red Plot Was Not Known

Officials of the Celanese Corporation of America said yesterday they didn't know of any Communist plot in 1940 at their plant here.

The plot story was told Tuesday at the Communist conspiracy trial in New York by Charles W. Nicodemus once a CIO organizer and a member of the Communist party. He said Communist workers at the plant wereo rdered to draw up a map of the layout.

H. C. Givens, Jr., manager of the plant, said yesterday he knew there was some Communist activity among workers in the plant in the early days of World War II.

But he had never heard of the map plot, Givens said, and he does not know of any instance of Communist sabotage at the plant.

Fred T. Small, a vice president of the company who was manager at the time, said, it was all a surprise to him.

Prospects For Amcelle Employment Are Brighter

Givens Spikes Rumor Plant Will Close

Says Plant Should Get Full Share Of Available Business

Rumors that the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America will be closed were branded false yesterday by Harrison C. Givens, Jr., plant manager, who cited "some slight evidence" of improvement in the textile industry and held out hope that the employment situation will improve as production turns on the upgrade.

There is no good reason, he added, why the plant, which has been modernized at the cost of over $21 millions, cannot compete with other plants even under today's stiff competitive conditions.

"There is no truth in the current rumor that the Celanese Corporation of America intends to cease operations at the Amcelle," Givens declared.

"The company," he said, "has spent over $21,000,000 since V-J Day in modernizing this plant and providing improved equipment for low cost production.

Plant Can Compete

"The program of establishing and maintaining a modern plant will be continued," he added. "With efficient use of the facilities already provided, there is no reason why this plant should not be able to maintain equality with other producers, and receive its full share of the available business, even under existing stiff competitive conditions.

"The whole textile industry," Givens explained, "has suffered a sudden and serious curtailment, but there is some slight evidence of improvement. Should this improvement continue, and there are reasons to believe it may, then production schedules will be increased and workers will be recalled from furloughs to handle the production.

"The rapidity with which production will be resumed at Amcelle depends first upon market conditions and second upon our ability to produce quality yarn at competitive costs."

Slump Affects Plant

The huge Amcelle plant, parent plant of the Celanese Corporation and still the biggest unit operated by the firm, began yarn production here on Christmas day in 1924 with a working staff of 200.

The plant employed more than 10,000 hourly paid and staff workers during peak production.

Some 9,500 workers were employed at the Amcelle plant prior to the middle of February when a general cutback in rayon production began to affect production and employment.

At present, total employment at the plant is about 5,500 employes.

The Amcelle plant was the only producer of cellulose acetate yarn for Celanese prior to the opening of the Celco plant in 1939 and the recently opened Celriver plant.

Shortly after V-J Day, the company instituted a giant program of additions and modernization of the Cumberland plant to place it in a competitive condition with other textile plants.

Many Improvements Made

The $21 million program included the rebuilding of cellulose acetate production, new equipment and overhauling of the CA plant, expansion of spinning production by nearly 30 per cent and some additions in the textile department.

The work also included installation of new twisting equipment for finished yarn, a new warping process for preparing yarn and increased electrical, water, sewer and air conditioning facilities.

Driver Freed

Stockley Trent, Sneedsville, Tenn., was released from County Jail yesterday after he paid a fine of $101.45 imposed in Trial Magistrates Court Monday on a drunken driving charge.

Buchholtz Heads Stadium Group

Finance Commissioner William H. Buchholtz has accepted appointment as permanent chairman of a city-wide committee to promote public interest in building a municipal stadium as a living memorial to dead of World War II.

This was announced last night following a meeting of the board of directors of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce at the Liberty Trust Building.

At the request of the Jaycees some time ago, 160 local organizations of persons to serve on such a committee. Those names will be turned over to Buchholtz.

Officials explained the Jaycees are interested in uniting local groups in carrying out a war memorial project. A public meeting was held at City Hall last November.

In other action last night, the board discussed a proposed amendment to the Jaycee by-laws which would require the resignation of members who fail to attend four successive meetings.

The resolution will be voted on at the next general meeting May 4 at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Fire Officials To Inspect Aerial Rig

Officials of the Cumberland Fire Department left here Tuesday for Columbus, Ohio, where they will inspect the new aerial ladder for this city.

The officials, Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan, Fire Inspector Charles C. McKearn and Assistant Fire Chief William L. Lindner, are expected to return here Friday.

Manhunt Started For Intruder

A posse of more than 100 police, firemen and volunteers scoured the rugged mountains surrounding Parsons, W. Va., until early yesterday morning in search of a negro who entered the Parsons Fire Hall Tuesday night.

Tucker County Sheriff D. E. Crosten said the negro was at first believed to be the same man who escaped from a West Virginia Security Farm at Huttonsville two weeks ago, but added he now is inclined to believe he is not the same man.

Crosten said Mrs. Darl Stalnaker, wife of the Parsons assistant fire chief, left her apartment for a few minutes at about 9:30 p. m. Tuesday while her husband was away from the house. When she returned, the lights, which had been on, were off.

Mrs. Stalnaker turned the lights on again and went into the bathroom. The lights were immediately turned off, and she ran into the hall to turn them on again. Hearing running footsteps, she went to the head of the steps, where she saw a large negro staring up at her. She pulled the alarm, which is located in the stairway, and fainted.

When firemen arrived the intruder had fled and a search was started immediately. Investigation disclosed nothing had been stolen or damaged, but a plate of candy in the kitchen was missing.

Crosten said a suspect is being held in Tucker County Jail, but added that the investigation is still underway.

Public Support Termed Important In Good Smoke Control Program

Public support is the most important factor in securing a good smoke control program, David N. Kuhn, administrative assistant of the Bureau of Smoke Prevention, Pittsburgh, said last night.

Kuhn addressed 71 persons at a dinner meeting of the Engineers' Club of Cumberland at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Aside from the 13 paid inspectors on the Pittsburgh smoke prevention staff, there are about 150,000 "volunteer smoke inspectors," public-minded citizens who call the bureau whenever they notice smoke violations, Kuhn said.

Such co-operation not only makes possible more complete coverage but also keeps the bureau and city officials "on their toes" in curbing smoke, the speaker explained.

Other important factors in a good smoke control program, Kuhn said, are a strict ordinance and good administration.

He listed three possible approaches to the problem of smoke. The first is the "fanatic's dream" of overnight control, which is too expensive and virtually impossible. The second is to ignore the problem, hoping sun, wind and air will take care of it while the third is the co-operative course, Kuhn said.

Pittsburgh's smoke laws are stringent but leeway is allowed industries and householders who show co-operation in trying to work out a satisfactory solution, he explained.

All types of industries and dwellings are now covered in Pittsburgh's ordinance, although one and two-family dwellings were exempted from the law until October 1, 1947.

"We have fined some industries as much as $100 a day for violations, after which they became amazingly co-operative," he added.

Pittsburgh's program started in 1941 but because of the war it did not become fully effective until two years ago, the speaker said. During an 18-month period after the present program started, public opinion in favor of smoke control climbed from 32 per cent to 66 per cent in citywide polls.

The Pennsylvania city, with a population of about 671,000, spends $85,000 at present in its smoke control program. The bureau personnel includes, besides Kuhn, a superintendent, chemist, 13 inspectors and four office girls.

2015th To Hear Maj. Gen. Byron

Maj. Gen. Joseph W. Byron, Hagerstown, commanding general of the 2015th Logistical Training Division, ORC, will speak to a meeting of the Cumberland section tonight at 8 o'clock in City Hall Auditorium.

Gen. Byron, who is in command of the division, which covers the counties of Garrett, Allegany, Washington and Frederick, graduated from the U. S. Military Academy in 1914.

A veteran of World War I, he also served for 46 months in the past war. He was Chief of the Army Exchange Service and Director of Special Services, serving in the European and Asiatic-Pacific Theaters.

Two Area Roads In State Program

Two area roadways are included in a State Roads Commission schedule of highway projects which will cost as estimated $40,000,000.

Up for construction this year is a four-mile flexible surfaced highway from Keyser's Ridge to the Pennsylvania Line, with an estimated cost of $225,000.

One of two Route 40 construction jobs, to cost an estimated $3,657,000, would relocate the Sideling Hill stretch of the highway.

William F. Childs, Jr., chief engineer, said the commission's program moved ahead so rapidly in the first quarter of 1949, that a number of additional projects not scheduled as yet probably will get underway in the next eight months.

Two Local Men Fined On Sales Tax Violations

Cameron, McCray Receive Hearings

Two local men received hearings yesterday afternoon in Trial Magistrates Court on charges of failing to collect, pay over and make returns under the State Retail Sales Act.

Charles E. Cameron, Gephart Drive, who operates the Sports Center confectionery at 208 Virginia Avenue, was fined $100 and $4 costs by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew.

In addition, Cameron was ordered to pay the $129.04 estimated as the amount he failed to collect and pay over to the state during the period from last April to January 19 of this year.

Magistrate Perdew ordered the latter payment on advice of a representative of the State Comptroller's Office, who attended both hearings.

Cameron, who pleaded not guilty, was represented by David Kauffman, local attorney.

In the second case, heard by Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti, Homer McCray, owner of the George Street lunch, pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to collect, pay over and make returns on $216.70 due during the period between August, 1948, to January, 1949. The sum was increased by interest to $221.50.

McCray was fined $25 and court costs of $4. He was represented by William L. Wilson, Jr. William Glick, local tax investigator, testified at the McCray hearing.

Warrants for both men were sworn out by James H. Griffin, another local investigator, who testified at both hearings. Assistant State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher prosecuted the two cases.

Suit Filed In Road Accident

A $10,000 damage suit was filed yesterday in Circuit Court as a result of a motor vehicle-pedestrian accident last month near Frostburg.

William E. Barr filed the suit against Zane F. Sherman, through his attorneys, William A. Gunter and William J. Gunter.

The declaration states Barr was standing on the south side of Route 40 three miles from Frostburg last March 6 when a vehicle being driven toward Cumberland by Sherman struck the plaintiff.

Barr claims the vehicle was operated in a "careless and reckless manner." He further alleges he sustained a compound fracture of the left leg, "injuries to the extremities, and some nervous shock" as a result of the accident, and that he was confined to a hospital for some time after being struck. He declares he still suffers "excruciating pain."

The plaintiff said he operates a restaurant, from which his weekly income is $150, and that he not only lost that income but had to hire others to operate the restaurant in his absence.

Rose Bushes May Replace Fence Posts In County

Number Planted Experimentally

An experiment in practical, but decorative fencing is being tried in the county for the first time by the Allegany County Soil Conservation Service.

If the experiment is successful, county farms may be bounded by the white blooms of the multiflora rose bush rather than slightly unesthetic wire or wood.

Enough bushes to make about 1,000 feet of fencing have been planted on the farms of Clarence O. Miller, near Vale Summit, John Heavner, Union Grove, Albert W. Pennel, Baltimore Pike, and Lawrence Twigg, near Flintstone.

Imported from China, the multiflora rose is climatically suited to most regions except altitudes over 1,000 feet north of Massachusetts and central New York.

The shrub is planted when it is a one year seeding, and when it comes to full maturity it about 5 to 7 feet high and makes an almost impenetrable fence.

Its advantage over traditional fences are many. In the first place, it is much less trouble and expense. It will grow in fairly poor soil. The shrub helps curb erosion and will turn most livestock, In addition, the red pea-size fruit of the shrub makes it an excellent wildlife plant.

A fair-sized fence may be obtained within five years if the plants are placed about one and a half feet apart in harrowed soil.

Multiflora rose is unsuccessful for fencing in the low frost pockets of Garrett because it will die back into the ground every winter and does not grow to full height. However, it has been found to be quite successful on the hillsides with adequate air drainage.

New Rec Area Being Studied In Garrett Co.

Youghiogheny Lake Recreation Site Is Proposed

Possibilities of developing the Youghiogheny Lake area in Garrett County into a recreational area for Maryland were studied yesterday by Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the Department of State Forests and Parks, H. C. Buckingham, state forester, and William A. Parr, district forester.

The group toured the area near Summerfield, Pa., with representatives of the Recreational Planning Division of the Pittsburgh District, Army Corps of Engineers.

Kaylor said last night that possible future development of the area could provide a resort for boating, fishing, picnicking and camping for family groups and for boys' and girls' organizations.

Boat Docks Built

He pointed out that the Corps of Engineers has set up boat docks, parking areas, and concessions at the bridge which crosses the lake in Pennsylvania.

Kaylor suggested that Maryland might set up similar facilities. He explained that Maryland has four points of access to the lake. They are Mill Run, Selbysport, Friendsville and Church Run.

Camping facilities could be established, he said, at each point of access. In the meantime, picnic shelters, tables, fireplaces and drinking water and toilet facilities will be set up in at least one or two areas as soon as funds are available.

He explained that land fronting on the lake is currently owned by the federal government and would have to be purchased by the state.

Floating Docks Possible

Under present plans of the Corps of Engineers, he said, the level of the lake may be drawn down at certain periods during the summer. State recreation officials, however, feel certain the situation can be corrected by floating structures, such boat docks and other improvements which would be anchored in the lake, he declared.

The level would be lowered, he said, because of attempts to lower the waterline at the dam at Confluence, Pa., following storms and other causes for high water.

The lake, he related, was formed by construction of the dam at Confluence, which backs up the water in Maryland and Pennsylvania south of the dam. (The river flows northward.)

The dam was constructed recently as a part of a federal flood control measure.

Cincinnatian Strikes Car Near Mt. Lake Park

The westbound Cincinnatian, crack B. and O. passenger train, was delayed 27 minutes yesterday afternoon when it hit and slightly damaged a car stalled on Beckman's Crossing near Mt. Lake Park.

State Trooper Robert F. Henline, who investigated, said the car, owned by the Garret County Welfare Service, was driven by Miss Eleanor Pritt, Kitzmiller, a welfare worker.

Miss Pritt, he said, told him she was crossing the tracks from south to north at about 4:15 when her car slipped off the side of the ballast between rails and stalled.

Hearing the train approaching, she left the car, taking a camera and some books with her. The train, which was on an adjacent track, failed to strike the car until the steps on the observation car, which protrude slightly, caught the right rear fender and caused about $100 damage.

The crew stopped the train to determine if anyone had been hurt and was delayed there until the car was towed away.

The Weather

From the looks of yesterday's weather report, it would seem the orchards escaped the dire fate predicted for them. Although the thermometer went down to 34 degrees, that was not quite low enough to do much damage. The rest of the day turned out to be quite pleasant with a maximum of 66 and a fairly mild night reading of 55. However, those who should know were pessimistic about the fate of the fruit trees early this morning. Today will be milder, but with clouds, as usual.
